Aging Equipment and Spiraling Replacement Costs Major Problem for Fire Department

Fire protection is something Princeton residents often take for granted and when the big red trucks roar up to a fire and the volunteer firemen move with fast, practiced certainty to get that fire out....well, it's a good feeling.

But financing equipment for Princeton's three volunteer companies is becoming more and more difficult as inflation proceeds, and equipment becomes old, and more advanced equipment comes on the market.

How do you balance the need for fire safety and top-notch equipment, with the need to keep taxes in line?

The fire last spring in Moffett Chemistry labs on the University campus pointed sharply to one very real need: communications equipment.

"I was four stories up in Moffett," recalls William Karch, second assistant chief and a member of Mercer Engine No. 3, "and I had to holler out the window to a guy in the basket (of the aerial fire truck) who was up there at my level. We really need a walkie-talkie system."

Fire Commissioner Arthur Morgan, who holds that title as the member of Borough Council assigned as fire company liaison, says estimates on communications systems range from $7,000 to $10,000. The top figure would provide equipment to more men than the lower amount.

"We'll have it in the 1975 budget," he promises. "We really have to include it—but I'm afraid it will be all they'll get."

The firemen had hoped for a replacement for Hook and Ladder's old (1950) pumper and they have included it in their own 1975 capital budget, but Mr. Morgan shakes his head: "That one won't be replaced for a time, I'm afraid." He estimates its cost at $48,000 to $50,000, based on the $42,500 price-tag for Engine Number 3's pumper bought in 1973.

Firemen would like to see the 1950 pumper replaced because it's not "rated"; that is, it doesn't meet modern standards, although it works perfectly well. In fact, Mr. Morgan points out that old fire engines never die --- one neighboring community has a splendid old war-horse with a picture of Niagara Falls painted on its side, after the fashion of a by-gone day, and it still doughtily fights fires.

The problem is getting replacement parts. And the Commissioner does acknowledge that "24 years is a long time."

Moving on from 1975, the firemen would like a small field truck in 1976, something quite different from anything they have now. It's a four-wheel drive vehicle, light enough to go deep into woods and fields, and small enough to fight a fire in the depths of a parking garage, like the one under the Pickering Building on Chambers Street, or the private garages under the University's apartments on Harrison and Hartley avenues. It could also clean up gasoline spills from automobile accidents.

In 1977, they'd like to replace Engine Number Three's 1958 John Bean pumper, and in 1979, Hook

Board Plans Two-Part Referendum for Oct. 15 To Provide Choice on Cost of PHS Renovation

A two-part referendum authorizing money to renovate Princeton High School will be presented to voters October 15. The school board unveiled its revised building renovation plans this week, first at a press conference and then at Tuesday night's special school board meeting. Plans will also be available at next Tuesday's regular board meeting.

Voters can pass the first part of the referendum—$4,950,000—and get what board president Winthrop Pike says are "absolutely critical" repairs and changes. By passing the second part—for an additional $1,225,000—voters will authorize "essential" work that would bring the PHS building into compliance with state standards. Part one alone is 17% lower than the entire referendum last June, but represents a 25 percent cutback, due to inflation.

Part two of the referendum doesn't stand alone, Mr. Pike emphasized. No matter how many votes it gets, it won't be valid unless the first part also passes.

Hannah Fox, board vice-president, said many Princeton residents have asked, "Why not a three-part referendum?" This would allow voters to cast a vote on a minimum $1.5 million repair job.

"The board feels this would be false economy," Mrs. Fox explains. "To spend a million and a half on windows, ventilation, roof, electricity and so on, would mean that in five years we'd find ourselves with a building not suited to our educational plans. We think it would be irresponsible to recommend this to the voters."

If this referendum is voted down, Mr. Pike warned, the board may have to increase the school system's capital budget to take care of needed repairs. Superintendent Philip E. McPherson added that almost all this capital money would have to be spent on the high school, thereby curtailing the amounts assigned to other schools in the district.

There are two big differences between these plans and the original ones. A great deal of site work has been eliminated, and most of the additions have been consolidated into a single, new three-story building with an elevator.

"Economical and maybe even better" is the observation of architect J. Robert Hillier.

Highlights, main floor:
• Using a new Walnut Lane entrance, students can enter the school through the cafeteria, making it a "lobby-milling area."

• The proposed art studio has been eliminated. A single, large studio, utilizing a present corridor, will adjoin graphics and industrial arts.

• The old "girls'" gym will remain. If Part Two passes, it will become a wrestling-gymnastics area.

• Another smaller gym will be built if Part Two passes. This would eliminate the need—and cost—to bus students to Valley Road and its gym.

• New boys and girls locker rooms will be built.

• The "Hollywood and Vine" corridor intersection will be opened out, as planned before.

• A new two-story library will be partly in the old cafeteria space, and partly in the new building.

• The court will be enclosed, as planned before. "This is not a frill," Mr. Pike says, "it's one solution to the circulation problem in the school". Some lockers will be here, freeing the halls, and a new stair will be built in the court.

• Guidance, language labs and language classrooms will be near the court and business ed. rooms off one leg of it.

• The drama workshop has been deleted. Instead, the auditorium stage will be closed off with a soundproof moveable door, and the under-utilized stage space, used as a workshop and classroom.

The auditorium will have a new fire stair. If Part Two passes, the auditorium will be renovated. Along with construction of the new gym, this is the biggest part of Part Two.

Highlights, upstairs:

- Six Science labs will be built and equipped. They will be moved to the new building because builders can't get at pipes for replacement. One lab is now in an "outhouse" (these will be eliminated) and one is in a classroom and without necessary science equipment.

- The Learning Community will remain where it is.

- The library can be reached from this level also.

- The old library will be converted to five classrooms.

Highlights, lower level:

- The cafeteria will remain as it is, except for the new entrance. If Part Two passes, it will be reduced in size and student activities areas built. There are none in Part One.

- Home Ec. will be reduced in size.

- The metal shop will be re-done, and a leak problem repaired. If Part Two passes, industrial education and woodworking will be modernized.

Former Borough Councilman Charles W. Cornforth is one who has taken exception to the board's plan for a two-part referendum. He thinks the voters should have a chance at a third option; what the board has called "bare bones" repair, once estimated at under $1 million, now estimated possible $1.5 million.

He points out that if the October 15 referendum is defeated, it will take so long to set up a third referendum with the "bare bones" option, that prices will have climbed still higher.

The Township specified that the Killam report be approved by the state. After it has been approved, the Township can then act to accept the report and implement any of its recommendations.

In their report, the Killam engineers suggest the Township pass ordinances limiting construction along the brook, and try to acquire land in flood-prone areas, perhaps for strip parks, in order to prevent damage.

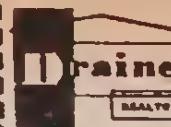

Ten bridges and culverts were found "inadequate" and in need of replacement. On some of these, "there is more water flowing over the road than through the bridge," the engineers say in their report.

The Township should prohibit fill that would alter the flow patterns of Harry's Brook or its tributaries and damage upstream or downstream properties. Also, the report urges that floodplain delineations be made of the rest of the Township's streams, especially where land is undeveloped.

Fire Equipment

and Ladder's Seagraves, dating from 1955. But . . . "The problem is," says Fire Chief David McCloskey, "no equipment at all was bought for so many years."

And he agrees with Mr. Morgan that to spend $176,000 over a three-year period is to spend a lot all at once. In 1971, it was the new aerial truck; in 1972, the pumper for Engine Number One Company and in 1973, the pumper for Number Three.

These replaced units bought in 1947. They are still alive and more or less kicking; they are used for training, as standbys and as rides for kids at the June Fete.

Incidentally, Mr. Morgan says it's almost impossible to pin down manufacturers on a fixed price for fire engines. And delivery takes from 15 months to two years.

Help from University. Princeton University helped out with payments on the aerial truck because it will be needed if there are fires in the University's taller buildings. The contribution was $10,000 toward the $92,000 price.

The University is also interested in that field truck, firemen say, because it could reach inaccessible parts of the campus, like the new Spelman dorms off University Place.

Walkie-talkies aren't the only kind of communications system firemen feel they need. George Rollins, first assistant chief, says radio gear in fire apparatus is now 20 years old. Firemen share a channel with police, first-aid squad, sewer operating maintenance trucks—everybody. (Police can switch to a channel of their own). Because Princeton and its neighbors have a mutual-aid agreement (out-of-towners helped fight the Hulit fire), firemen think it would be helpful to be on Mercer County's fire band.

Gradually, over the past three years, Princeton's companies have acquired Plectron units for about 25 men in each of the three companies. These small units, battery or plug-in, give a tone alert and transmit a verbal message to individual firemen at home or work. This means men can respond faster to a fire signal.

Plectron units, incidentally, are the reason you don't hear sirens or the honker as much as in the past.

Lack of Communications. And "communications" can also mean human exchange. Firemen would like closer contact with the University, for example. Men didn't know until after the fire that there was radio-active material in Moffett lab.

When there was a fire in Frick chem. lab., firemen discovered that the more water they poured in, the more the fire flared. "When there is a lab fire, there should be someone to tell us what's inside," Mr. Karch observes.

For the taxpayer, fire protection has a lot of financial angles. Financing expensive equipment is one. There is also the question of supporting the three volunteer companies, whose members need boots, replacement for hoses, money to pay light and heating bills for the three firehouses, and so on.

Neighboring towns often don't support their volunteers at all, except with token sums like $2,000 to $5,000 a year. There are the towns where bingo games, roast-beef dinners or blankets spread at roadside to catch the coins of passing motorists, serve to finance the purchase of a fire-engine. The operating budget of Princeton's fire department is $40,095, with $10,300 allotted to fire-hydrant maintenance. Mr. Rollins would like to see firemen have more control over that budget, so that their own priorities could be followed.

Insurance Ratings. Insurance Ratings. Then, there are the insurance premiums home-owners pay. The Borough has a "D" rating, the Township an "E" from the Fire Rating Bureau established by fire insurance companies.

The Township is lower because it has no call-boxes, large areas where there are no hydrants and above all, the Princeton Shopping Center. Like most centers, this one has a single common attic along an entire row of stores, the kind of thing that gives firemen nightmares.

Firemen estimate a premium saving of $40 a year for individual homeowners if Princeton could achieve a "C" rating. Having paid drivers on the trucks would probably induce the rating bureau to assign a "C", firemen say, but that would raise the department budget and erode the $40 saving.

Undersized sewer mains (by modern standards) or conditions of climate and geography over which no community has control, also affect ratings.

Firemen see a problem in non-monetary areas, too. Commissioners usually serve one year. Mr. Morgan isn't running for Council again, so firemen will have to break in a new Commissioner in the Borough on January 1. In the Township, Committeeman William Sutphin, the present Commissioner, may or may not serve another year.

Chief McCloskey thinks a full-time public safety commissioner may eventually be necessary. Mr. Morgan suggests a commissioner named by the fire companies themselves, and subject to the approval of the mayor. He adds that the one-year tenure of the fire-chief is also too short. Mr. Rollins is scheduled to be the new chief on January 1. Mr. Karch will succeed him in 1976.

Highly Technical. "Fire-fighting is a highly specialized area," Mr. Morgan comments. "There is a lot of technical detail, and I must say I've learned a lot in one year. But for the firemen, it's a constant job of re-educating each new Commissioner."

Mr. Morgan says the Borough is fortunate in having, as its full-time administrator, a long-term fireman like Robert Mooney, who is both experienced and knowledgeable.

Mr. Morgan's chief concern is recruiting. He wonders whether the three companies can continue to get new, young volunteers in mobile times like these when young people often move away from Princeton and frequently work far away even if they live here.

Women members are a possibility raised by Mr. Karch. He sees no reason why women can't serve as the "fire-police" who direct traffic near a fire, stand guard over household goods to prevent theft, and so on. He also thinks the companies should "take a hard look" at age requirements. "If a doctor says somebody is physically fit at 45 or 50, why not?" he asks. The age ceiling pumper.

is now 40, raised from 35 a few years ago.

Princeton's fire department is totally volunteer—there is no paid civil servant executive—and its relationship with citizen and elected official are good, even though they sure would like that new

Rate of Crime Involving Attacks on Individuals Increasing Markedly Here

If Princetonians feel that their weekly consumption of news brings a steadily increasing number of stories reporting rape, muggings, purse-snatchings and deviant sexual acts, their impression is correct—such crime is markedly on the increase. Princeton long ago lost the somnolent characteristics of a small town in which it once basked, but the incidence of bodily harm done its residents in recent months in unparalleled.

Princeton isn't like the average town of its size, commented Chief Michael Carnevale, because of its location. So many people pass through here, he said. He described the Borough as a "little Manhattan." It's unbelievable the kind of people we get here," he said.

A Nassau Street store proprietor echoed this the other day when he said, "I could write a book about the things I've seen on Nassau Street but nobody would believe me." Tuesday morning, while describing the report of a man who told police that he heard his bathroom door open as he was taking a shower and looked up and saw his trousers were missing, Chief Carnevale commented, "We live in a weird town."

Earlier, at his same weekly press conference he had prefaced one of his reports: "Continuing with our weekly sexual deviate act . . ." but then later withdrew the report because it would damage an ongoing police investigation.

Out-of-Towners Involved. An increasing amount of crime in the Borough is being committed by out-of-towners—a trend corroborated by Juvenile Officer Douglas Watson, who reported that most of the juvenile offenders he had had to deal with this month in an upswing in activity have come from outside the Princeton community—from Trenton and Kendall Park. "You'd think after their friends got caught they would stay away, but they keep coming," he said, shaking his head.

That Princeton is a Mecca for the drifter, the runaway, the juvenile delinquent creates a continuous problem for the 28-member Borough force which has to try to keep up with the sheer amount of activity involved. No one is more aware of the need for cooperation on the part of citizens to aid police than Chief Carnevale.

He constantly urges anyone to call police if they come across a suspicious person or suspicious situation. Callers need not identify themselves, and as an example Chief Carnevale had nothing but praise for the person who called to report a woman screaming, an act that led to the cessation of an attempted rape, reported in a story below.

Crime, police are fond of saying, isn't just a concern of the police; it's a concern of everyone. Or should be. Perhaps even more so, they point out, in Princeton.

MAN HELD IN JAIL

For Attempted Rape. A Long Beach, California, man, whom police described as a drifter, is being held in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail, after being charged with the attempted rape Sunday night of a Borough woman.

The suspect, identified as Raymond Miller, 32, is scheduled to appear October 2 before Borough Judge Philip Carchman. Police said that the victim, whom they described as in her 20's, did not require hospital care.

According to the Chief Michael Carnevale, the victim got off a New York bus at Palmer Square shortly before 11 and began walking on Nassau Street. She was approached by the suspect who attempted to kiss her. As she attempted to push him away, he grabbed and carried her into the John Street alley next to Langrock's.

Put Down That Eggplant!

Stealing ripe vegetables from somebody's carefully tended garden puts the thief about on a level with the slug, Princeton gardeners believe...with fervor.

Thefts of vegetables from the various gardens located around town in semi-public locations have been reported in past weeks. One gardener, who refers to "vegetable nap-pers", said a thief had kidnapped (and no ransom), all her eggplants, all her onions and had de-nuded her pepper plants.

Another gardener reported the theft of winter squash, and the uprooting of entire tomato plants, with stakes. One gardener has threatened, only half-humorously, to "selectively poison" the vegetables.

Still another utters the ultimate in curse: If you rob his garden at night, "may you be spit upon by slugs."

was small, police said that the victim also lost personal items and contact lenses valued at $185. The incident took place at 8:15.

Five minutes later, a middle-aged Trenton woman told police that she was standing next to a car near 160 Witherspoon when a tall, slender youth, approximately 6-2, wearing a large flat dark-colored hat, black coat and beige trousers came up behind her and grabbed her pocket-book.

The victim told police that she held on. The strap broke and the pocketbook dropped to Officers making the initial investigation were Patrolmen Ronald Holiday and Robert Mucciarelli. It is being conducted by Det. Timothy Huizing.

ASSAULTED BY A KISS
Philadelphia Man Charged.
Assault and battery does not always involve a fist; sometimes it can be nothing more than an aggressive kiss.

This was discovered Sunday by Brian Whisman, 34, of Philadelphia, who has been charged with two counts of assault and battery after trying to force his affection on a quartet of young girls.

Police report that Whisman approached two girls, 16 and 17, as they were walking around 6 p.m. on Vandeventer Avenue and allegedly put his arm around one and tried to kiss her.

Earlier the same afternoon around 4:45, two girls, 12 and 15, also walking on Vandeventer, told police that a man had come along and put his arm around one of them, before running off. Police were given a description of the suspect in both cases.

At 8:30 that evening, Sgt. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli apprehended Whisman on the corner of Wiggins and Witherspoon when they saw he answered the description. Police said that he had a room in an apartment house on Vandeventer.

The four girls later made positive identification and Whisman, who, police said, is a teacher, admitted the charges. He was released in the custody of his father to await an appearance in court.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that the police investigation, "into all matters concerning the case," is continuing.

RUN ON WALLETS

Police List Four Victims.
Borough police report four wallet thefts last week, including one victim who lost $2 while he was showering.

Goodbye, Summer

Slow your bathing
Suit away—
Autumn comes
To us on Monday

The last few days of summer are on the horizon, and Monday morning at 6—more than half an hour before the sun rises these days—fall will arrive.

What's left of the current season should be pleasant, the Man reports. He's calling for partly sunny and mild weather right through the weekend.

Police said that a thief entered a rear door that had been left open to an apartment in the Witherspoon Street area and removed a pair of trousers from a bathroom door while the owner was showering.

A pocketbook containing a passport and wallet with $20 was taken Thursday evening from a living room table in the Stanworth area. The owner saw a man leaving the house and called police.

The empty wallet was found the next day in a mailbox at John and Leigh Avenue. Police said that a screen panel had been pushed in to unlock a rear door.

A wallet left in a car near Marquand Park last week was taken, but police report that it contained no money. It was later found by Township police on Quaker Road, its contents strewn about.

Monday afternoon a thief with shoulder length blonde hair wearing a yellow or white jacket reached in the window of a car parked on John Street near Kopp's Cycle Shop and removed a wallet containing $10. A search of the area recovered the wallet at the rear of the cycle shop.

PLANTS STOLEN. Two men got out of a car last week and walked up to Woolworth's on Nassau Street and stole four hanging baskets with plants in front of the store. They ran to a waiting yellow car parked on Tulane Street and drove off.

3 CHAIN SAWS TAKEN
From Tree Nursery Truck.
Three chain saws, one valued at $390, and a tool box were stolen last week from a truck owned by tree surgeon Robert Wells, 200 Grover Avenue.

Mr. Wells told police that his truck had been parked in a vacant lot at the rear of his property. He placed his total loss at $1,000.25.

William Wooding, 24 Bertrand Drive, reported the theft Friday of a tool box from his garage between 8 a.m. and 10:30 p.m.

Police said that the box, containing assorted tools and weighing more than 80 pounds, was valued at $168.28. There were no signs of forced entry.

Vera Nikoden, 56 Bertrand Drive, lost her wallet containing $52 last week when someone entered her locked car near the tennis courts in Community Park. Ptl. David Cromwell investigated.

A university student, John A. Moody, 19, 431 Princeton Inn College, was charged with shoplifting Saturday in a Kresge's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

According to the store manager, Moody allegedly placed a $3.87 fur hat on his head and walked out. He was released in his own recognition to await an appearance in Township Court.

CAHILL ISSUES DENIAL
Enjoys Living in Princeton.
Former Governor William T. Cahill termed "completely untrue" a published report in a Trenton newspaper attributed to an "unidentified source" that he was unhappy in Princeton and intended to reside in South Jersey.

"No community or group of citizens could be warmer, more friendly and offer so much to the happiness of a family than Princeton, New Jersey, and no family could be more pleased with and happier in a community than the Cahills are in Princeton," the former Governor said. Mr. Cahill, who is teaching at Princeton University, is also a member of the Princeton law firm of Cahill, McCarthy and Hicks.

"We have thoroughly enjoyed every day we have spent in Princeton and look forward to many years enjoying the educational, cultural, religious and recreational facilities that abound. We have made many new friends in Princeton, have become associated with many community activities and organizations and our two youngest daughters who are seniors at Princeton High School really love it!"

"We hope to remain in Princeton for a long, long time."

MORE PARK & SHOP?

ORDINANCES INTRODUCED.
More park-and-shop space, half a million dollars to peer into the sewer system, and a resolution which may or may not have passed, occupied Borough Council Tuesday, September 10, after TOWN TOPICS' press time for the week.

Two ordinances were introduced (public hearing) Oct. 8) allowing Palmer Square's existing Park-and-Shop lot on John Street to be combined with the Borough's own adjacent Chambers Street lot.

Entrance and exit will remain where they are now, for Park-and-Shop. In the daytime, the Borough will close off its own entrance and exits. An internal connection with the Park-and-Shop lot will be made.

The combined lot will be managed by Palmer Square, thereby meeting in part, the long-felt desire of Mayor Robert Cawley to "get police enforcement out of parking."

Rates will be 15 cents an hour for the first two hours, 30 cents for the third and fourth hour, and 50 cents an hour thereafter. The effect on the Borough's own meter revenues will be "negligible," the mayor said.

COUNCILMAN THOMAS CAWLEY introduced a $500,000 bond ordinance to finance an infiltration-inflow study of Princeton's sewer system. Eventually, Federal money will reimburse 90 percent of this amount. Public hearing October 8.

A resolution asking President Gerald Ford to rescind the pardon he granted to former President Nixon, was—passed or not? It was introduced by Councilman Martin P. Lombardo. He and Councilman Robert Powell, both Democrats, and Councilman Arthur P. Morgan, a Republican, voted "yes."

But the other three Council members abstained: Barbara Sigmund and Joseph Moore, Democrats, and Thomas Cawley, Republican. So far, Borough attorney Gordon Griffin has not given his opinion as to whether the yes have it. The resolution also put

Council on record --if it passed--as favoring the resolution of Watergate through the judicial process.

The zoning ordinance amendment changing the Borough's only RO2 zone to CB, was also introduced. This is the so-called Playhouse zone and includes the Playhouse parking lot.

Following Township action, the Borough introduced an ordinance allowing citizen members of the Planning Board to complete their terms if they move from Borough to Township, and another on width and specifications for the Johnson Park school bike path, for which the Borough will pay seven percent.

IN TOWNSHIP HALL...

Committee to Meet. A brief agenda will be on the desk when Township Committee meets next Monday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

The ordinance providing for merger of the two Boards of Health—Borough and Township—is still under study by Committee and will not be introduced at this meeting.

Public hearing will be held on Telebus' request for an increase in fare from 50 cents to $1. Committee will also hold a hearing on the ordinance to change width and specifications for the Johnson Park School bike path. The path would be constructed, on an experimental basis, of quarry blend, and increased in width to eight feet. The Borough would foot seven per cent of the bill, since the path is, so to speak, seven per cent in the Borough.

The ordinance to allow a Class III—citizen—Planning Board member who moves to the Borough from the Township, to complete the term on the board will be introduced. Committee is also expected to bring up again its plans to redesign the Township Hall parking lot. Public hearing has been closed, but no action taken so far.

PAST, PRESENT FUTURE: These gentlemen hardly need any introduction but they are, from the left, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Harry S. Truman and Herbert C. Hoover. They were brought together in Prospect Gardens by Princeton photographer Alan W. Richards at the June, 1947, celebration of the University's bicentennial. The resulting photograph is believed the first one ever to show three Presidents, past, present and future in this case, together in the same picture. In the years since then Mr. Richards succeeded in obtaining the autographs of all the men. On Tuesday, he presented the original signed print to President William G. Bowen and the University.

Application for state road or plans, on the other side of highway and the canal. West Windsor proposes that one aid money to be used on Great Road Section IV (Ridgeview to Cherry Valley), will also receive action.

ACROSS THE CANAL .. Houses? Apartments? West Windsor and Princeton face one another, friendly neighbors, across the Delaware and Raritan Canal.

But Princeton's Regional Planning Board says all it knows about West Windsor's new master plan is what its members read in the papers. And West Windsor's planning board secretary says she has "nothing to show what Princeton Township now has OK TO HOSPITAL On to Zoning Board. The Medical Center will proceed to systems, the plan proposes eight percent floor-area ratio, roughly equivalent, say West Windsor officials, to three-quarter-acre zoning. Where sewers could be used, the floor-area-ratio would be 18 per cent, or approximately half-acre zoning.

In the area, there could be cluster development, with 20 per cent of the land left to open space, or "planned residential building."

The township would like a mix of one-to-four-bedroom units or, as one spokesman phrased it, "a smattering of everything."

The plan was explained last Thursday in a presentation to about 200 residents. The West Windsor Planning Board will vote on the plan on October 30. At present, West Windsor has a moratorium on residential building. Its two-year life span expires November 30.

The Center asked the Planning Board to recommend favorable action by the request for conditional use variances, and the planners said they would, but with two "however".

The board wants it understood that it is neither denying nor affirming the Center's right to construct a "J" building which is ultimately ten stories high. Also, they want to make sure the new addition will mean no increase in the number of beds. There were no qualifications on favorable recommendation for the "Merwick" plan.

Tiger Auto Stores, Inc. was granted approval of its site plan to convert the B.P. gas station at 249 Nassau to a bicycle shop.

The Planning Board, with one "no" and one "abstain", passed the resolution hiring Queale and Lynch for six months as a staff planner for the board.

Martha Lamar said she was voting "no" because the board's initial goal was a full-time staff planner, and the Queale and Lynch would be only part-time.

Golda Gottlieb said she was abstaining for the same reason: to affirm the need for a permanent resident, full-time planner.

Norman Williams, board vice-chairman, said he wanted the record to show that many other members concurred in these opinions.

For those desiring classes involving special skills the Adult School offers a shorthand refresher course; typing; reading efficiency; and Getting Your Point Across: How to write and Speak More Effectively. Under Recreation and Dance, classes include tennis for beginners; three folk guitar classes—for beginners, intermediate, and advanced; Social Dance: Dancing to "Big Band" Music; and Square Dancing for Beginners.

Those looking for something different may choose Wine tasting; Time Keeping Through the Ages; or Tai-chi Chuan: Oriental Physical exercise.

The Adult School is a non-profit, self-supporting organization, and charges a modest fee to cover the cost of the courses. Senior citizens 65 or older and students under 18 may request a 25 per cent reduction in any course fee. For certain courses, individual tickets and family group tickets may be purchased.

During open house this year, the Adult School will have a transportation table, where students wishing to find a ride to and from classes, or those willing to provide rides may leave their names. Also, the Adult School will endeavor to find rides for senior citizens with transportation problems. Textbooks, if needed, will be available at the University Store. Unless stated, course fees do not include materials.

Design a Bicentennial Logo—Win $100

The Princeton Community Bicentennial Committee has announced a competition among Princeton residents to develop a Bicentennial Logo which will be used as the official identification for the community of Princeton during the coming bicentennial years of celebration. A prize of $100 will be awarded to the winning entry.

The layout should be sufficiently unified so that it can be used on stationery, official documents and commemorative items such as a medallion. The detail should be clear enough whether it is used in large size or on something the size of a silver dollar.

The committee suggests that you create something that you feel suggests Princeton, N.J.—perhaps town alone, or town and gown. A bicentennial date such as 1776-1976 or 1776 alone or perhaps 1976 alone might be included, or a sketch of the old Nassau Inn, or the Mercer Oak.

Entries should be mailed to the Princeton Arts Council, 44 Nassau Street, before midnight October 15. If finished art is not supplied, renditions should be clear enough to understand so that a professional artist could complete it. All entries become the sole property of the Princeton Bicentennial Committee.

A panel of judges has been constituted to review all entries and recommend two or three to the Princeton Bicentennial Committee for their final decision. The panel includes Neal O'Connor, President of N.W. Ayer Advertising; James Burke, Executive Vice President of Johnson and Johnson; William Thompson, architect; Aaron Marcus, Director of Graphic Arts at Princeton University; and Leslie L. Vivian, Director of the Office of Community and Regional Affairs at Princeton University.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Driver Suffers Concussion. A 24-year old Borough woman was treated at Princeton Medical Center for a concussion which she received last week when her station wagon was involved in a crash at the intersection of North Harrison and Franklin Avenue.

Rita Lachwicz, 151 Hamilton Avenue, was taken to the Medical Center. Asked what happened at the hospital by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino, she replied: "I don't remember." She was charged with drunken driving and failing to yield after stopping at a stop sign.

According to police, the Lachwicz car, traveling on Franklin, pulled into the intersection and was struck on the side by a car driven by Katherine R. Ellington, 416 State Road. Mrs. Ellington refused treatment for an abrasion of the knee.

Both cars were extensively damaged and had to be towed. At the time—5:05 p.m.—it was raining and the roads were wet.

CAR ROLLS OVER FOOT

Youth Treated at Hospital. Fifteen-year old Jonathan Pike, 101 Leabrook Lane, was treated at Princeton Medical Center Monday evening after a car ran over his right foot.

The mishap took place in the drive at 121 Braeburn. According to the police report, Pike had started to enter a car operated by John F. Sly 2d, 17, 464 Ewing Street. The driver, thinking Pike was already inside the car, started to move forward and the car's rear wheel passed over the victim's foot.

There were no charges by Sgt. Robert Heacock.

SIX ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Six Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Judge Philip Carchman in Borough Court.

Fined for speeding were Colin Kendall, 31 Taylor Road, $20; Marie Broadwater, 54 Herrontown Road, $15; and Marvin Berkowitz, 189 Carter Road, $20. Helen E. Bache, 261 Snowden Lane, paid $20 for failure to yield at an intersection; Thomas Mauro, 45 Hillside Drive, paid $25. U-turn; and Janet Quigley, 214 Mercer Street, paid $20, stop sign violation.

BIRTH LIST

Eight Boys, Ten Girls. Sons were born last week at the Princeton Medical Center to Mr. and Mrs. David Nevios, 1642 Brunswick Avenue, Trenton, September 8; Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Glasser, Princeton Arms, Cranbury; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Johnson, 155 Mechanic Street, Hightstown.

Parents of daughters are Mr. and Mrs. James Ewart, 104 Ingleside Avenue, Pennington, September 9; Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Libsch, 227 Wilson Avenue, Hightstown, September 11; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Feldner, 1 Zachary Lane, Yardville; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill, 2858 Main Street, Lawrenceville, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Y. Pang, Lawrence Court, all September 12; Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Dominguez, 1101B State Road; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Heyd, 217A King Street; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shalavada, R.D. 2, Monmouth Junction; Mr. and Mrs. Feliciano Padlan, 423 Lawrence Road, Trenton, all September 13; and Mr. and Mrs. Guy J. Class of 1978, 1130 Strong, Arrives on Campus; Student Body Now Totals 3100 Men, 1300 Women

A freshman class which totals 1,130 members has completed orientation programs and is nearing the end of its first week of academic activities on the Princeton University campus. Timothy C. Callard, Director of Admission, said that the Class of 1978 is larger by 48 students than its immediate predecessor.

The first class to be admitted under Princeton's new policy of equal access for both sexes, this year's freshman class numbers 788 men and 342 women—compared to last year's 776 men and 316 women—increasing to about 1,300 the number of undergraduate women in the student body, with some 3,100 men.

Two-hundred and seven freshmen, including 35 women, will enroll as candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree. Last year some 205 freshmen enrolled as candidates for the B.S.E. degree, including 21 women. Ninety-six incoming freshmen are sons of Princeton alumni and 72 are alumni daughters. Students from 45 states and the District of Columbia have enrolled. Half come from a tri-state area: 25 per cent from New York, 17 per cent from New Jersey and 10 per cent from Pennsylvania. Some 62 per cent attended public schools.

Of a total of 166 minority group students, there will be 87 Blacks, 9 Puerto Ricans, 18 Mexican-Americans, nine others of Spanish heritage, one Native American and 42 Orientals.

Nine out of every 10 freshmen were ranked academically in the top 20 per cent of their secondary school classes. Average scores on the College Entrance Examination Boards were 658 for the SAT verbal (653 for men, 669 for women), 694 for the SAT mathematics section (706 for men, 666 for women), and 675 for the average of the three required achievement tests (675 for men, 676 for women).

American Cyanamid; Fred Kurst, Education Testing Service; John Lasley, Opinion Research; Jon Metcalf, FMC Corp.; James O'Harran, RCA Laboratories; Stewart Otto, Union Camp Corp.; Robert Reilly, NL Industries; Roger Sims, Shell Chemical; Warren Wagner, RCA Astro-Electronics Division; and Margaret Worth, Mathematica.

According to the co-chairmen of the Research and Industry Division, Dr. Aleck Borman of Squibb, and Harris Barnett, of the Institute for Defense Analysis, each of these assistant chairmen will be responsible for the soliciting plans within six companies in this area, including his or her own.

WANT TO VOLUNTEER? Many Agencies Need Help.

Over 60 organizations in the Princeton area rely on volunteers for everything from driving a car to tutoring—in fact, those are the two most desperately needed skills.

"Volunteer Opportunities: 1974-75," a booklet which was itself prepared by a volunteer, is now at the Princeton public library and in other libraries in the area. It may also be obtained at the office of its publisher, the Council of Community Services, 221 Witherspoon street in Princeton.

Agencies in the booklet are located in communities from East Windsor to Montgomery and from lower South Brunswick to upper Hopewell Township. In each listing, the booklet gives the name of the organization, its address, the person to contact and the ways in which the organization needs volunteer help.

Some volunteers may want to bake birthday cakes for boys at the Training School for Boys in Skillman. Others may want to tutor math, Spanish or reading in the United Progress community schools of Trenton.

Arts and crafts aides are needed by the Trenton Psychiatric Hospital, and gymnastics instructors by the Princeton Recreation Department. The Princeton YMCA needs diving instructors. The Hot Line needs concerned listeners and Telephone Reassurance needs people to telephone those living alone to make sure they are all right.

New entries this year in the annual publication are the Children's Home Society, the Mercer Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, the Florence Crittenton Home, the Family Counseling Service of Somerset County, Project Forum at Trenton State Prison and the recreation commissions of West Windsor, Montgomery and Hightstown-East Windsor.

People with clerical or artistic skills seem to be in great demand: each of these categories is mentioned 24 times. Five agencies have volunteer work to be done at home, by mail or telephone. Drivers and tutors are listed by only a dozen or so agencies, but greater numbers of volunteers are needed for these two services. Incidentally, high school and university students as well as older volunteers, are in demand.

Patricia McPherson is the volunteer who compiled the information in the 25-page booklet. She also assembled the first issue, in the summer of 1970.

PARENTS FORUM SET TO START NEXT MONTH. The Family Service Agency of Princeton is taking registrations for the second in its series of family life education and counseling groups. Called "Getting Started as a Family," for couples or individuals beginning to have children, the sessions will begin October 28. They will include group discussions of the psychological experience of pregnancy, childbirth and the impact of the newborn on adult and couple relationships. Sessions will be held weekly on six consecutive Monday evenings from 8:15 to 10:15 through December 2 at 120 John Street, Princeton offices of Family Service. They will be led by Carolyn W. Treadway, family counselor and specialist in pregnancy-postpartum counseling.

Fee for the entire six-week series is $45 per individual or $85 per couple. Interested persons may register by calling Family Service, 924-2098, and mailing in a $10 deposit per person. Except for special arrangements, the balance will be due at the time of the first session. Early registration is suggested as the group will be limited to 10 persons.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT TO WORK AT NJNPI. Volunteers are needed for many different areas at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute at Skillman. Several interesting programs will provide challenges to people of varied backgrounds.

NJNPI has active programs in music therapy, recreation therapy, and occupational therapy. Volunteers are needed in the patient cottages, to talk to the patients, read to them, write letters, and play simple games.

The psychology department has need for people with some background in psychology to work on special studies. The behavior modification program can use mature individuals who would like to be trained as group leaders.

For those who do not wish patient contact, there are positions in several sections for persons who wish to do clerical work. There will be an orientation session and training for all volunteers.

The minimum age for volunteers is 16, and those between 16 and 18 need parental permission. There is no maximum age. Time requirements vary, depending on the position.

Further information, and a personal interview, may be obtained by calling the volunteer director, Mrs. Ruth Meadow at 609-466-0400 ex-

HUN PLANS PROGRAM the eventual aim is to open the To Show Colonial Tools project to all Mercer County Wooden planes, rawhides, mallets, inshaves, wood-handled augers... All are tools Franklin R. Dippery of Pennington, and English that were familiar to the teacher at Hun whose hobby is Colonial craftsman as he went woodworking, will help about his work of creating wooden objects for use in the project. homes of the 18th and early 19th centuries.

The sound of these old schools in Mercer County fashioned tools will soon be to learn how wooden items heard again because of a grant made to the Hun School said Mr. Dippery. "I hope by the Mercer County Cultural Commission they'll actually be able to make something themselves."

The $1,700 mini-grant, to be issued in two installments, will be used to develop a one-hour demonstration program. Any school interested in the use of these tools, Hun having representatives of the School students will be first to demonstrate the put on their leather cobblers' use of colonial tools should aprons (the type worn by Colonial woodworkers), but mission at 989-8000 Ext. 293.

WOMEN'S DAY PLANNED By Princeton 'Y'. "A Day for Women" will be sponsored by the Princeton YWCA on Saturday, October 12, from 10 to 3:30. Chairwomen Andree Marks and Marjorie Smith have scheduled a series of events intended to provide area women with an opportunity to share their thoughts and feelings.

Keypointing the morning's activities will be a short play entitled, "We, the Family," performed by members of the New York City theater group, Plays for Living. In the afternoon 10 workshops will be offered, covering such subjects as career choices for women; raising children without sex stereotypes; and the feminist movement.

Registration at $5 per person includes lunch presented at the YWCA's Open House, Sunday, Newcomers club. No fee will be charged for women over 60. National Fire Prevention Week. Other women organizing the First place awards will include Arlene Berman, Elaine Coffee, Yolanda King, Nancy Kirby, Pepper States Savings Bonds, and McLaine, Jean Parsons and United States Savings Bonds as second place awards. There will be four categories divided by grade level. The first place awards will be provided by American Cyanamid Company, J. Robert Hillier Associates and McLean Engineering Laboratories.

CONTEST PLANNED

By Junction Fire Company. The Princeton Junction Fire Company will hold its second annual fire prevention poster contest for all artists in grades three through eight.

Contest rules may be obtained either at the Princeton Junction Fire Headquarters on Alexander Road or at Schafer's Getty Service Station on Hightstown Road. Posters will be judged October 10.

Registration at $5 per person includes lunch presented at the fire company's Open House, Sunday, which he retired in July, 1957. Mass of Christian Burial The MacMillan Building, was celebrated at St. Paul's completed in 1961 near Baker Church Tuesday, with burial Rink, houses the departments of physical planning, direction of the Kimble physical plant, real estate, housing and the maintenance shops.

Mrs. Ruth C. Carlton, 47, of 21 Caldwell Drive, died September 13 at her home. Mr. MacMillan received a Civil Engineering degree with lived in San Jose, Calif., Phi Beta Kappa honors from Princeton in 1914. He served as an instructor at his alma mater until 1917 when he joined the First Engineer Regiment, U.S.A., as a second lieutenant.

He participated in all the engagements of that unit and was discharged in July, 1919, as a captain. During World War II, Mr. MacMillan took leave from his Princeton post to serve five years with the Headquarters of the First Army and later as a Colonel and Assistant Chief of Staff with the Headquarters of the Eastern Defense Command.

In addition to memberships in Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, Mr. MacMillan was a Fellow of the American Society of Civil Engineers and a life member of the Society of American Military Engineers. He was a director of the First National Bank of Princeton and of Palmer Square, Inc.; a former president of the Princeton Water Company, and a director of the Nassau Savings and Loan Association.

Mr. MacMillan was married to the former Helen Applegate, who died in 1961. There are no near survivors. A service was held at the Cole Funeral Home in Cranbury.

Frieda Mende, 85, 44 Nassau Street, died September 11 at the Merwick Unit, Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Germany, Mrs. Mende came to the United States in 1926 and had been a resident of Princeton since 1930. She was a member of the Princeton United Methodist Church and a former member of the United Methodist Women of Princeton.

She is survived by her husband, Eric Mende. A private graveside service was held Friday at Princeton Cemetery, the Rev. Ronald Dyson officiating. Arrangements were under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Frederick O. Carroll, 60, of Canal Road, Griggstown, died September 14 at the Princeton Medical Center. A lifelong resident of Princeton, he had been a foreman at the Princeton Nursery, where he had worked for more than 40 years.

Mr. Carroll was a charter member of the Griggstown Fire Department and the Griggstown Sportsman's Club. He belonged to Trinity Episcopal Church of Rocky Hill.

A brother, Arthur, of Griggstown is his only near survivor.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Lee Crandall of the Griggstown Reformed Church, officiating. Burial was in Rocky Hill Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Claire Morrell Carter; a son, Douglas C. of Lawrenceville; a daughter, Mrs. Denise Gail Carter, at home; and a sister, Mrs. Vincent Chircop of Hasbrook Heights.

The funeral in Hopewell was followed by burial in Highland Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Heart Fund or St. Matthew's Church Memorial Fund.

CHAMBER PLANS DANCE

To Aid Career Awards. The second annual Colonial Ball, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce on behalf of Career Development Awards, will be held at the Hun School Saturday, September 28, at 9:30. Last year's sellout affair saw some 150 couples attend and add $2,300 to the CDA coffer.

A wholly community-sponsored program, CDA disburses its funds in the form of scholarships and honor awards to deserving secondary school graduates who desire vocational and commercial training. Now entering its sixth year, CDA has enabled some 77 gifted area students to prepare for careers in automotive technology, electronics, fashion design, haute cuisine, nursing, retailing, etc.

If the weather holds, there will be dancing on the terrace. Refreshments will be served and pre-ball activities will include a number of small dinner parties to be given by host couples.

Cost for the evening's festivities is $25 per couple, and checks may be sent to the Chamber of Commerce, 44 Nassau Street. Those wishing to contribute without attending the Colonial ball may be listed as patrons in the program for $5, or have a business listing as a sponsor for $10. All contributions are tax deductible.

EARNINGS REPORT SET
At Mathematica, Mathematica Inc. had record revenue and earnings for the year ended June 30, it was reported by Dr. Tibor Fabian, president. Consolidated net operating revenue increased 15 per cent to $11,816,500 from $10,295,600 a year ago.

Net income reached $631,100 or 90 cents per share, an increase from $565,400, or 80 cents per share, last year. This year's net income includes an extraordinary gain of $49,200, or 7 cents per share, resulting from the sale of Mathematica's minority interest in a European company.

Dr. Fabian said, "The accelerating rate of progress at year end was particularly gratifying to management."

"Most noteworthy is the fact that our backlog of contracts for fiscal 1975, including contracts awarded but not yet signed, has risen to approximately $12.5 million—almost double the backlog of a year ago."

Mathematica is a consulting and research firm working in the areas of operations research, system analysis, economic analysis, opinion research and survey development. It has designed and implemented several of the state lottery systems.

Improve your ad vantage

by Chuck Higgins
New Jersey Bell
Yellow Pages Representative

"The big guys spend a lot advertising their brand names, so make the most of it."

Chances are your store is filled with merchandise bearing famous names. Or if service is your specialty, you have hundreds of parts on hand to fix the products sold by the big ad spenders.

These manufacturers have concentrated their million dollar budgets on establishing their names and building a desire to purchase their products. Now it's up to you to say "Here's where to buy it" or "I'm the guy to fix it."

More than just building sales, or service calls, the fact that you deal in brand names establishes a quality reputation for your own business.

Making the most of brand names is a must in all the advertising you do, but it's particularly true in your Yellow Pages advertising.

When people follow up their

Yellow Pages reference with a call, visit or written response, as studies have shown 9 out of 10 do, the desire to purchase a certain brand has probably already been created by the manufacturer. Or they have previously purchased the brand and now need someone to service it.

That's why it's so important to have the Yellow Pages play a part in your advertising program no matter how large or small it may be. When customers are looking for a brand name, you want to be darn sure they find it along with your name.

Make the most of the millions spent on those brand names. Include those names in your ads, and don't overlook putting yourself beneath bold face listings of the famous names you deal in. It'll make your own dollars go further.

One in a series prepared for business people who want to get more for their advertising dollar. A service of

News Of The CHURCHES

TRINITY PLANS SCHOOL

"For Christian Living." Trinity Church will sponsor a six-week series of three courses starting Tuesday, October 8, which are designed for adults who want to explore and enrich their lives and faith. The subjects being presented are "Perspectives of Biblical Faith" taught by Bernard W. Anderson of Princeton Theological Seminary, "American Civil Religion" by Donald G. Jones of Drew University and "Discovery and Nurture of the Interior Life" shared by Paul M. Washington, Jared J. Rardin and Elias Charry all of whom have Philadelphia pastores.

This will be followed by another six-week series beginning in late January and taught by John Koenig and Herbert E. Anderson of Princeton Theological Seminary and Gene Outka of Princeton University.

The concept for this school grew in the mind of the Rev. Colton Fite who sensed people want the opportunity to listen, learn and take part in an experience which will enable them to live more creatively and peacefully during these unsettling times.

A committee of clergy and lay people headed by Professor David Billington met to design the school and select this group to lead the studies. The unanimous desire of all is to provide a tool for daily living to interested parishioners and members of the community.

Coffee will be served at 8 p.m. and the classes will meet from 8:15-10 in Trinity church parish house, 33 Mercer Street. A $10 fee will be charged to help defray costs.

Brochures or registration blanks may be obtained by visiting or calling Trinity Church, 924-2277 or Mary Ann Florence, 921-3826. Name, address, course preference and fee may be sent to the church with the form on this page. The registration deadline is Sunday, October 6.

HUNGARIAN TO LECTURE

At Seminary. The Rev. Dr. Sandor Czegledy, Professor Pastoral Theology at the Theological Seminary in Debrecen, Hungary, will make a long-awaited appearance at Princeton Theological Seminary on September 30 and October 1, President James I McCord has announced.

As 1974-75 Lecturer in Missions, the scholar-minister will address himself to the topic "A Perspective in Mission—Challenges, Resources and Tasks." The lectures all of which are open to the public, will be presented at 7:45 Monday and Tuesday in the main lounge of the Seminary's Campus Center and at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Miller Chapel.

Professor Czegledy, a pastor in the Hungarian Reformed Church, is a graduate of Central Theological Seminary and Princeton Theological Seminary. His doctoral degree was awarded by the University of Debrecen.

HEBREW CLASSES SET

By Jewish Center. Ulpan modern conversational classes for adults, will again be offered this year by the Princeton Jewish Center in Liberties Union. The Mercer County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union applauds the cooperation with the Trenton Jewish Community Center. Instructors are experienced Israelis qualified to use the ulpan method in teaching.

Classes will be held during the day or in the evenings and are available on three levels, beginners, intermediate or advanced students. The 30-hour course will meet once a week for 15 weeks, beginning on Thursday, October 10, at 8 p.m. The fee is $40.

The teacher will be Mrs. Nehama Greenstein, who taught and was principal of an Ulpan in Israel for many years and who has also taught at the Princeton Center. For additional information, call Mrs. Cecilia Rosenblum, 60 Balsam Lane, 924-9734.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES

At Lutheran Church. The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church has announced that its youth confirmation classes will be divided into two separate groups. Youth in the seventh grade will meet on Monday evening at 7 and youth in the 8th, 9th and 10th grades on Thursday evening at 7:30. Both groups will meet at the church parsonage at 37 Nassau Place under the direction of Pastor Frederick Schott.

At the service Sunday, the adult choir, under the direction of Esther McDonald will render their first selection of the year as they sing "Clap Happy Psalm" by Ridenour. Church services are held at the Maurice Hawk School on Clarksville Road in Princeton Junction beginning at 10. Sunday School follows at 11 with classes for all ages from three to adult. Further information regarding any phase of the church may be obtained by calling Rev. Mr. Schott at 799-1753.

MAILBOX

Stop Signs Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On September 10, at approximately 8:30 p.m., our cat, Mandarin, was struck and killed on Walnut Lane at the intersection of Walnut Lane and Guyot Ave. There are stop signs on Guyot Ave. but there are not any on Walnut Lane.

There should be, because, there is excessive speeding through that intersection. By having stop signs there, the people who drive through would have to stop which would slow them, so that there would be ample time to stop for animals and children who cross there. A stop sign there could prevent future accidents and assure a longer life for all.

Please help us get stop signs put up, so that Mandarin's sister and all the animals and children who live here will be safe from the tragedy that happened to us.

A Sensitive Question.

To the Editor of Town Topics: The Mercer County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union applauds the serious efforts by the Princeton Regional Schools system to thoroughly examine the sensitive questions pertaining to the keeping and handling of students records.

(TOWN TOPICS' Cover Story, Aug. 29) To quote the U.S. Supreme Court in Tinker vs. Des Moines School Board (1969): "It can hardly be argued that either teachers or students shed their constitutional rights at the schoolhouse gate."

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell. In TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results.

We would like the public to hear a distinguished panel of discussants, including N.J. ACLU's Executive Director, Stephen Nagler, react to these issues as depicted in an ABC News documentary, "The Paper Prison—Your Government Records", on Tuesday, September 24, 8 p.m., in the Trenton Times Community Room, sponsored by the Mercer County Community Action Council. Questions on the problems of record-keeping and surveillance will be welcomed from the audience.

Explanation Sought.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is an open letter to the Princeton Post Office:

On Friday, August 16, I mailed letters from a mail box on Nassau Street to local Princeton businesses as well as mail to New York State. When this mail finally reached its destination, five days later, on August 21, and too late for the purpose for which it had been mailed, the letters were post marked, Tuesday, August 20.

Can the Princeton Post Office explain this one?

It would have been drastic to say the least, if a piece of this mail contained, for instance, an IRS return for which a person would be fined for everyday it was late, etc.

Princeton Borough Investment Opportunity

Within walking distance of Firestone Library is one of the finest and largest duplexes that we've ever seen, with at least four bedrooms on each side. Downstairs, there is a living room, dining room and kitchen plus a host of other possibilities in each apartment. It's situated on a quiet and charming street where children walk to everything and you get a break to partake of everything Princeton has to offer also. Why not move into one side and make payments as if you hardly had any mortgage at all? Call us for the particulars on financing, and a sound analysis of this investment opportunity

$75,500

In the Montgomery Countryside

Yes you can find a reasonably priced brand new 4 bedroom home on plenty of land in the Montgomery countryside if you call for an appointment on this handsome cedarshake western style home at the foot of Sourland Mountain. You'll be impressed with the elegant grey slate foyer, the spacious raised living room with a view, the formal dining room, the country eat-in kitchen, and most of all the expansive family room with massive brick fireplace. Each direction has a scenic countryside view. Liberal financing available for a qualified buyer.

$66,900

Robert Frost in Griggstown?

The owners say that they bought this home because of the trees, which shade the cottage and create a sylvan canopy even at noon. As if this were not enough again... you should see what they've done with the pretty little house under the canopy. The birch covered living room is warmed by a huge hearth, the kitchen has been tastefully updated in a woodsy manner, and a family room has been carefully winterized looking onto the wooded splendor. There are two comfortable bedrooms, and a full bath, and room for more if you care to add on. We can't help but wonder what kind of person will come forth to find this peaceful abode

$42,900

Commanding View of Montgomery

The delightful comforts of a superior home are yours in this custom-built truly spacious colonial with a commanding view of all of Montgomery Township. From a graceful entry foyer, perfect for a grandfather clock, you are led on Bruce Parquet floors into a magnificent rustic family room with raised hearth. To the right is a super modern colonial kitchen with its own extra special breakfast room with a bay window view of the wooded splendor of the mountain. To compliment this both the formal living room and elegant dining room have their own picturesque view of the valley below. Upstairs, is a fantastic master suite (with a tremendous walk-in closet, dressing area and full bath) along with three other comfortable bedrooms. Complete with central air-conditioning, central vacuum, underground utilities, and a stunning colonial charm in a magnificent setting.

$84,900

Whose Woods These Are, I Think I Know...

Few homes near a country club offer so much in Colonial charm and variety as this fabulous two story Colonial in a yellow woods. From the plushy carpeted sunken living room to the elegant dining room with wide angle bay window, one can sense a home with great possibilities for entertaining. Yet, from the neatly decorated eat-in kitchen to the convenient open family room with raised hearth and exceptional flagstone and brick terrace there is a sense of easy living in the woods. Perfect for entertaining yet great for a family.

$62,500

Princeton Basque Cottage

Right in the heart of Princeton, we've found a neat little stucco cottage that offers all kinds of possibilities for the avid do it yourselfer. Upstairs is a large three bedroom apartment with formal living room, dining room, kitchen and raised deck or sun porch. Downstairs is a small office room, and three car garage where some say a woodworker used to practice his craft. What can be done with this cottage is up to your imagination: the potential is there.

"The Results," He Said, "Were Fantastic!"

MARGO COME HOME. I miss you. The children miss you. Why can't you leave the High Button Shoe Antique Center in Rocky Hill? Just because their bargains are so numerous and because you have a separate shop to choose from? Is that any reason for leaving your husband and 12 children?

It's the kind of an ad that does achieve readership, but the results aren't there unless the readers find it. Find it they did—down at the bottom of a page of TOWN TOPICS, which has provided readers with a mixture of interesting information and frequent humor in its classified pages for nearly 30 years. The man said the results were "fantastic."

You can get results for your ads here, too, for as little as $2 for the first 20 words and a mere three cents a word thereafter. Lowest price in town, too, but far and away your best bet.

Just call 924-2200 any week day from 9 to 5. Deadline each week, Tuesday afternoon.

WHERE ELSE...
BUT AT COUNTRY ANTIQUES CAN YOU FIND...

A fine butterfly Windsor armchair. All original and about 1810. Subject to prior sale.

A Richard Jordan pitcher, large, blue and beautiful.

A rare "Shai", sometimes incorrectly termed a Paisley. Probably originating in India or Persia. The heavy type, hand sewn on the underside. Probably lacking 3 or 4 generations to complete. Most beautiful colors it has ever been our privilege to see.

More New Jersey coin silver in all categories of spoons (teaspoon, dessert and serving).

A coin lemon fork, never seen by us before.

A Bennington jug, early Norton with mcm blue and an A. J. Butler from New Brunswick which should prove attractive to any New Jersey collector.

A petitpoint needlework picture of Christ healing the sick. Framed and beautifully executed and in a perfect state of preservation.

+ + + + +
Our center window is attempting to be an all New Jersey window. Note: "Old Mills" chairs, Richard Jordan pitcher, New Jersey quilt, New Brunswick jug and Greenwood pottery.

Here are just a few of the many land listings available to you through our office in Hopewell. Some are beautiful scenic building lots with woods and streams, others are major farm properties with active potential for successful investment for immediate and future development.

Lots and Lots of Lots

15 high and dry building lots on Losey Rd. in East Amwell. Beautiful views overlooking the Valley. Priced from $14,000 to $18,500.

Ready to go. Approved sites and percolation.

On Hollow-Servis Road in rural Montgomery Township, you'll find a gorgeous 2-acre lot on a hillside. Architects plans are available. $17,000

A 4.5-acre partially-wooded building site is available on 518 Spur just across the street from the Hopewell Valley Country Club. Percolation has been approved for one home.

Assessed $15,500. On the market for $15,500.

3 spectacular 10-acre lots are available just across the Township line in East Amwell. Partially-wooded, they have high land with a view and low land with open fields. Just right for privacy and a mini-farm with horses. $30,000 each.

Two 3.5-acre lots are absolutely the most beautiful we have. They each have a brook and woods with tall mature trees. The perfect place for a new Contemporary with complete privacy. They are on Stony Brook Road dividing Hopewell Township and East Amwell. Percolation is good. $20,000

Overlooking the Sourlands in Hopewell Township is a splendid 2.5-acre lot all set to go. Subdivision has been approved. Percolation okayed. Less than a mile from the Station in Hopewell. $27,500

On Stony Brook Road 3 plus miles from Route 518 we have a two-acre lot high up in the Sourlands. Perfect for any type of home-Contemporary or Colonial. And the price is certainly right. $17,000

Investment, Development, Farm

134 acres overlooking the Borough of Hopewell. Absolutely breathtaking view. Barn and solid farmhouse included. 40% zoned 20,000 sq. ft. lots, remainder zoned 2 1/4-acre lots. Contiguous to border of Borough. Great potential. $3,500 per acre 55 acres on Van Dyke Road in Hopewell Township. This is a beautiful piece of land with 1,682 feet of frontage. Contains a farmhouse and barn, which could be subdivided. Percolation is good. Some is wooded; some is open. All is ideal. $200,000

94 acres and an old stone and frame barn in Harbourton. Large pond and some open low land but most is wooded and hilly with outstanding views. Zoned R-250, Hopewell Township. Good investment, $3,000 per acre.

On Lambertville-Headquarters Road we have a 12-acre piece that is a must-see for privacy and possible subdivision.

In Montgomery Township on Spring Hill Road you can see 70 acres of hills and valleys with fields and woods. And you can own it for $3,300 per acre.

In East Amwell 90 plus acres is available on the Snydertown-Linvale Road. Much of the land is now a tree farm where timber is harvested annually. Half is under Farm Assessment and the remainder will be shortly. Two old dam sites are visible. The land is excellent long range investment at $2,000 per acre

P.U.D. possibility. Over 600 acres of outstanding land in several contiguous pieces off the Wertsburg Rd. in Hillsborough Township. Neshanic River offers sewer plant possibilities. For the potential major league developer this is an outstanding opportunity.

165-acre farm in Hopewell Township. Frontage on two roads. Very high land, pond, brooks. Adjoins golf course. Seven rental properties. Huge barns and indoor riding ring. Grand house overlooks all and has paddle tennis court, large Sylvan pool, etc. Magnificent place. Ask about this one.

78+ acres on Featherbed Lane, Hopewell Township with 1,400 foot frontage. Open fields and woods plus a brick Colonial house, with apartment. Zoned R-250. Priced right at $2,500 per acre. The house and 5 acres may be bought with the land, but for an additional price.

66+ acres on Yard Road, Hopewell Township off Route 31 in the vicinity of Pennington with 1,100 foot frontage. Zoning R-150. 3/4 acre, small pond, open field and wooded. Priced at $3,500 per acre.

We are experts in this area on land and farms and our sales personnel are always available to discuss with you, your needs concerning the listing of or purchase of small building lots or large development parcels.

MEMBER OF NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF FARM & LAND BROKERS

Additionally, we have literally hundreds of other land listings of all types and sizes and in all neighboring municipalities.

21 brand new land listings have just been offered for your consideration in West Amwell and Hopewell Twps. They range in size from eight acres to 200 acres; in price from $1040 an acre to $2600. Some have houses and barns that can be subdivided. Some are wooded. Some open. All are priced properly for sale at an early date. These are important properties. Important for investment or development.

Yogurt may be even better for you than you though—a recent study suggests it may be capable of lowering blood cholesterol levels, thus helping protect against atherosclerotic heart disease.

Do you have a fever, or don't you? Pay more attention to symptoms than to the thermometer, say doctors. Normal temperature may range from 97 degrees to 100 degrees.

Think you need a hearing aid? See a doctor first to determine the type of hearing loss, and whether a hearing aid will help.

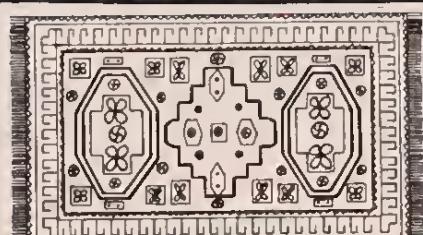

Doctors can now treat infants 'in utero', before they are born. Even transfusions have been done.

Where there is no public water supply, fluorides are sometimes added to milk, but there is less public benefit and higher cost.

Three Women Business Partners Were Warned "It'll Never Last," But The Forecast Went Astray

Jean Clark laughingly says that a little boy once called her "the dried-up lady" --an unthinkable description of this exuberant woman who loves flowers and makes the exquisite arrangements of dried plants that are illustrated in her new book, "The Art of Colonial Flower Arranging."

Before long, Mrs. Clark will leave her home in Rocky Hill for the cities of the mid-west to talk about arranging dried flowers and to promote the sales of her book. The volume has just been published by Pyne Press, in Princeton.

She is one of the three partners in Eighteenth Century Bouquet, Inc., on State Road. Her colleagues are two other Princeton women: Betty Flanders, who is president of the firm, and Barbara Platten, the treasurer.

The three women bought the business about 20 years ago from Agnes Hoke, whose late husband, Bland, was manager of the Princeton Inn. Mrs. Hoke had been making dried flower arrangements to display around the inn, and before long her friend, Mrs. Flanders joined her in the enterprise and the two developed a dried-flower kit, for inn guests to take home.

"Just a Day or Two." They wanted an artist-type, so Betty turned to me, and I agreed but only if I could work just one or two days a week," and Jean Clark laughs now at the recollection of those "one or two days."

"I wanted time to be home with my three daughters after school, and to continue my piano teaching," she explains.

Piano lessons for children have been part of Mrs. Clark's life even longer than dried flowers. The pair of grand pianos in the pleasant Rocky Hill studio room "belong" as much as the tins of statice drying in the State Road loft-workroom.

Three women as business partners? "It'll never last," that's what everybody told us, but we're still together, and how the business has grown!"

"Our first big order was from Lord and Taylor, and our first really smashing piece of publicity was a story in Saturday Evening Post."

For a long time, the bouquets were exclusively at Lord and Taylor but for several years now they have been at Altman's. The arrangements are also available in fine boutiques and gift-shops all around the country, particularly in stores that have "Williamsburg shops."

"You, too . . ." Women who buy the book will find it a "how-to" book with specific directions on how to make your own dried-flower are hung to dry, just as arrangements like the ones Colonial flowers were. But that are illustrated by the peonies, zinnias and such are black and white or color too delicate for this treatment photographs. Kits are and must give up their available from Eighteenth Century Bouquet, Inc. for many of the designs that Mrs. Clark shows in the book.

FLOWER LADY... and piano teacher and now, author. Jean Clark, author of "The Art of Colonial Flower Arranging," says "I just love my work—there are never enough hours in the day for all I want to do!"

She herself learned how to make these arrangements from Mrs. Hoke. "It was a salvia and amaranth for the wonderful student-teacher Clark bouquets. Goldenrod—relationship. She would tell Clark grows wild around Princeton. me 'No! That's all wrong' and Italy produces immortelle; rip it apart, and I'd do it all over again. Well, she's living in Williamsburg now, and

"We're like farmers—we're affected by weather and arrangements there, and she called me the other day and early frost in Florida, we said 'I promise I'll follow your directions!' It was quite a winter statice crop comes from, or maybe our Pennsylvania grower can provide only 2,000 dozen this year instead of last year's 5,000."

For buyer-reader-doers who plan to make their own, Jean Clark has reassurance: "Don't panic. A little Duco has glued a blossom back on more than once. And nobody has ALL the answers."

The relationship has been continued with Mrs. Clark as teacher and Juliet Bloor as pupil. Mrs. Clark dedicated her book to "Judy" Bloor, who is her chief helper-arranger at Eighteenth Century. Judy brought her gardener's knowledge to the company and her own experience in flower-arranging, but Mrs. Clark has taught her even more.

Modern? Yes. Although dried-flower bouquets are Colonial in ancestry, the Clark book shows that they can be used in contemporary settings, or indeed for any setting at all. Jean Clark has done offices in the refurbished Johnson and Johnson building, in various banks and she has in her own Victorian farmhouse a silvery arrangement of "money" (lunaria annua) which would be quite at ease in a contemporary room.

Thumbing through a crisp copy of her new book, Jean Clark laughs at the writing of it.

"You know, I've never THOUGHT how I do arrangements—I've just DONE them. Well, if you're writing down, step by step, for a how-to book, you have to analyze for the reader. One arrangement, I must have done 500 times a year over ten years, and when I began the analysis, I found there was a pattern I'd been following without realizing it."

The Formula. How do you dry flowers, anyway? The three partners used borax and cornmeal mix for many years, but now they use silica gel. For the essential air-tight container, they use the fruit-cake and cooky tins available at Christmastime—and only then, which makes buying rather tricky.

Some flowers, like goldenrod, statice or salvia,

Dining out makes good sense...

- ★ no dishes to wash
- ★ no pots to scrub
- ★ no shopping to do
- ★ no left-overs to eat
- ★ it's just plain enjoyable and really, when you get down to costs and consider all the conveniences it's just about as costly to eat at home.

Put this all on top of the fine food you get at the Nassau Inn...

★ plus the wonderful atmosphere

★ plus the splendid service and you have truly impressive reasons for dining out at the Nassau Inn.

And to top it all — at the Nassau Inn in Princeton, you can pick from

BICENTENNIAL NEWS

By THE TOWN CRIER
Box 1976, Princeton, N.J. 08540

It's September and all is well! Plans are under way for the gala celebration by Princeton Borough and Township for America's 200th birthday.

Headed by William K. Selden, the Princeton Community Bicentennial Committee will coordinate events to be sponsored by various organizations and inform the general public for maximum participation. Sub-committees include commemorative events, arts and music, master calendar, historic sites, school curriculum, and publicity.

Official Celebration Period. Bicentennial observation starts April 1975 and ends in January 1977. Suggestions from area residents are welcome and should be mailed to the Bicentennial Committee, Box 1976, Princeton.

Bicentennial Purpose. The basic purpose of the celebration will be "to encourage further a continued and enhanced pride in Princeton and the nation, and to stimulate a sense of community good feeling among all citizens of the community of Princeton", as outlined by Mayors Junius Bleiman and Robert Cawley in the appointment of the bicentennial committee.

This weekly column provided by the Bicentennial Committee will serve to report events in the planning stages leading up to the official opening of the 18-month celebration.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AMERICA!

this route several times since she has never been able to top her performance here. Streisand is greatly aided in the film by the performance of Ryan O'Neal.

O'Neal plays an absent-minded musicologist; Streisand a free-spirited scatterbrain who keeps causing him trouble because she likes him so much. The "plot" centers around a series of confusions involving four identical suitcases, two containing secret papers and two stolen jewels.

The jokes and mayhem that evolve are straight out of Keystone Cops and they are just as well done. A chase scene with Streisand and Ryan on a grocery bike pursued by jewel thieves which covers much of the city of San Francisco is elaborate and extremely funny.

Another hilarious sequence takes place in O'Neal's hotel room where one insane disaster after another piles up.

Sure, it's old, screwball formula and uneven but Streisand and O'Neal, two pros obviously enjoying themselves, make it all worthwhile. Ably directed by another young master, Peter Bogdanovich.

The African Queen and Dead End, two hits from the past, are featured this week. News of the Theatres

"The African Queen." It also shown Hepburn at her best. The film is a testament to the period when movies relied on acting rather than nudity and gore to attract audiences.

"Dead End" has Sylvia Sydney and Joel McCrea in starring roles but is more memorable, perhaps, as the first film in which Loe Gorcey and the Dead End kids appeared. It was released in 1937. Talk about nostalgia . . .

"GODFATHER"

At McCarter. "The Godfather" will come back to Princeton for five showings this weekend at McCarter Theatre. It will be shown in its entirety this Friday at 8; Saturday at 2, 6:45 and 9:45 and Sunday at 7:30.

"The Godfather" was the most talked-about American film of 1973, and it already ranks as one of the ten top grossing films of all time. Based on the best-selling novel by Mario Puzo, it stars Marlon Brando in the title role, and has a supporting cast including Al Pacino, James Caan, Robert Duvall, Richard Castellano, Sterling Hayden, John Marley and Richard Conte.

Written and directed by Francis Ford Coppola, "The Godfather" led inevitably to its own sequel, "Godfather II," also directed by Mr. Coppola, which is scheduled for release in December. The film also elevated Al Pacino to stardom, and helped rescue its producing studio, Paramount Pictures, from severe financial difficulties.

Single admissions to all showings will be available at the box office beginning at 10 on the day of each screening, as well as at the door at showtime.

GARDEN

Papillon. Henri Charriere's best-selling autobiographical recounting of his attempts to escape from prison in French Guiana has been meticulously detailed in this $12 million film-too detailed.

Running two and one-half hours, the film is much too long. It has its moments—the multiple escape attempts are exciting in themselves—but what Papillon ultimately proves is that even the talents of a Steve McQueen and a Dustin Hoffman can be buried and the most exciting adventure boring if it is too drawn out.

Both McQueen and Hoffman are excellent. Their relationship (Hoffman is a bookish and eccentric forger who is shipped to Guiana with McQueen, who plays Papillon) is brought into a clear emotional focus as a deep, caring that ultimately helps them survive.

McQueen escapes first when Hoffman is assaulted by a guard but he is brought back by bounty hunters for two years of agony in solitary confinement. He escapes again only to be recaptured and subjected to a five-year stint in solitary.

In fact, he is dragged back to the colony so many times that when he makes his final escape from "inescapable" Devil's Island, the audience may find it less than climactic.

What may stay with the viewer is the meticulous detail of the inhuman conditions and brutality of prison life, the living death of solitary confinement and the relentless passage of time as bodies decay and minds wither.

MONTGOMERY

The Great Gatsby. No film since "The Godfather" has come along with more advance billing and ballyhoo than "The Great Gatsby," which has ushered in "The Gatsby Look" in the apparel industry.

Opuleat-Paramount is said to have spent $8 million on its production—Gatsby is a visual 4-star success but as interesting drama—unlike "The Godfather"—it falls far short.

Both Redford and Mia Farrow as Daisy Buchanan, the girl Gatsby once loved, and still does with a naive obsession, are miscast. Gatsby is a midwesterner, who made his fortune in the rackets and wants desperately to be accepted by Daisy and her crowd. Redford with his classic good looks, looks as if he attended Yale and was born to life on the Eastern Shore of Long Island.

Miss Farrow is dainty and attractive to look at, like a piece of Dresden China but devoid of any smouldering appeal. With her mousy voice, it is hard to believe that Gatsby would devote his life to pursuing her.

It is the supporting characters who breathe what little life there is into the film, especially Karen Black as Myrtle, the mistress of Daisy's husband, and Scott Wilson as Myrtle's cuckolded husband. When they are cut, they bleed; when they are hurt by life, they react—unlike the cold, lifeless Buchanans.

Introducing the most popular bank services in a package

Take the "three way" or the "free way"

We've put the most popular bank services into one package. It's called the Full Circle Account, and there are two ways you can get it.

The "three way"

The complete package is yours for a small monthly fee of $3. That's the average cost of a checking account alone, yet it pays for checking and a lot more with Full Circle Account. But there's a better way . . .

The "free way"

You can also have a Full Circle Account at no cost whatsoever if you maintain a balance of $300 or more in your regular savings account. Not only will you be getting a super value for free, but your savings will earn 5% interest compounded daily.

The Full Circle Account package:

• Free unlimited checking

Write as many checks as you like. No minimum balance required and no monthly maintenance fee.

• Full Circle I.D. & Check Cashing Card

Your Full Circle Account Card makes all Full Circle services readily available to you. It also guarantees that your personal check and/or paycheck will be cashed without delay or additional identification.

• Free personalized checks

Seriously numbered checks personalized with your name and address are supplied at no cost.

• Bounce-free checking

If you write a check for more than your balance, we'll cover it up to your pre-arranged limit. (Normal finance charges apply.)

• 5% Regular Savings

All Full Circle Account customers will enjoy the maximum interest on savings compounded daily.

• Discounts on loans

You're entitled to a discount on most personal installment loans.

• Free money orders, cashier checks and certified checks

There's no charge when you need a money order or an official check.

• Free travelers' checks

Forget about the fee . . . they're free!

• BankAmericard

Full Circle Account customers receive their own BankAmericard, the most popular charge card in the world. (Normal finance charges apply.)

• Automatic transfer from checking to saving

Tell us how much you want to save monthly, and we'll automatically transfer that amount from your checking into your savings account.

• Free bank-by-mail

Save on gas and bank-by-mail. We'll supply free postage both ways.

A chamber orchestra for Susan Robinson, soprano, contemporary music, the Martha Senseman, cello; Nan-Players were formed in 1971 with the performance of progressive chamber works of the 20th century as their principal aim. The Princeton program will include: "All Set for Jazz Ensemble (1957)" by Milton Babbitt; "Quartet for Trumpet, Tenor Saxophone, Piano and Percussion" by Stefan Wolpe; and "Serenade, Op. 24" by Schoenberg.

Music From Marlboro will return with three concerts in the series. The first will be Tuesday, November 5, at 10 McCosh Hall, and will feature Lydia Artymiw, piano, Felix Galimir, violin; Peter Zazodsky, violin; Kim Kashkashian, viola; Nancy Ellis, viola; and Sharon Robinson, cello, in a program of Mozart, Brahms and Dvorak. The remaining two Music From Marlboro concerts will be on Tuesday, February 4, and Wednesday, April 16.

The Pro Arte String Quartet Quartet-in-residence at the University of Wisconsin is composed of four outstanding American-born instrumentalists who present more than 60 concerts a year here and overseas. Their program Tuesday, December 3, at 10 McCosh will consist of works by composers with past and present connection with the Music Department of Princeton University: Rohr Sessions' "Second Quarter," Andrew Imrie's "Fourth Quartet" and Edward Cone's "String Trio."

Indian Classical Music: Ali Akbar Khan, Sarod and Zakie Hussain, will be heard on Wednesday, March 19, at Alexander Hall. Ali Akbar began his studies at the age of 3 with his father, Dr. Allaudin Khan, the greatest figure in North Indian music today. He mastered vocal music, drums and other Indian instruments before concentrating on the Sarod.

At the age of 14, he gave his first public performance. All Akbar Khan first visited the U.S. in 1955, at the special request of Yehudi Menuhin. Since then he has toured the world and made several recordings. In 1967, he founded the Ali Akbar College of Music in California.

Subscription price for all six concerts is $18, students, $9. Individual tickets are $4, students, $2. Tickets are available at the Concert Office, Music Department, Princeton University.

Mail orders will be accepted; send a check payable to: Princeton University Music Dept. and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. For more information, call the Concert Office, 924-0453, 10 to 4, Monday through Friday.

MEMORIAL CONCERT SET

To Honor Steven Pearson. Members of the Princeton community are invited to participate in an offering of music in memory of Steven Avery Pearson on Saturday September 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Princeton University Chapel.

Mr. Pearson was killed in an automobile accident in the state of Washington on July 25, 1974.

Musician who will take part in the program include

A group of former members of the Princeton High School Choir under the direction of William R. Trego will sing several movements from Bach's "Jesu Meine Freude." Princeton High School Choir members who are familiar with the work and who would like to join the group are urged to contact Mr. Trego as soon as possible.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

For "Hansel and Gretel." Auditions for Princeton Opera Association's production of "Hansel & Gretel", to be performed November 1, at Rider College, will be held at the United Methodist Church, Nassau Street and Vandeventer Avenue, on Saturday between 1 and 5.

Special interest is to be given to children who wish to appear in the production. Children who have previously appeared must re-audition. There are also adult roles open; to audition, contact Mrs. Virginia Bachalis (896-0631) for an appointment.

CHOIR PREP EXPANDED

At Westminster. For the past three years, the Westminster Choir College Preparatory Division has offered an ever-growing number of central New Jersey youngsters a chance to study with well-known area artists - last year more than 200 made their way to Westminster for after-school lessons.

This fall the Prep will be twice as large as last year, adding 13 new teachers, private lessons in Clarinet, oboe, bassoon, all brass instruments, including French horn, classes in Suzuki violin, introduction to music, chamber music, a community-wide children's choir, and a string quartet workshop.

According to Louise Cheadle, director of the Prep, the name preparatory is rather a misnomer. "We are interested in preparing people to enter college as music majors," she says, "But we're even more interested in giving area residents, adults as well as youngsters, first-rate instruction on any instrument that interests them." Registration continues through Tuesday. For information call 921-7104.

Of special interest to parents of young children is a choir that will meet once a week under the leadership of Helen Kemp, children's choir clinician. The choir is open to boys and girls ages 9 through 12. This group will prepare music for public performance, and also serve as a demonstration in children's choir pedagogy for education majors at Westminster.

The Suzuki violin method was developed in Japan with phenomenal success. Children from the age of four are taught in a classroom situation in which parents are required to be in attendance and willing to learn enough about playing the violin and music in general to work with the children at home.

Orff Techniques. Also being offered this year for the first time is an introduction to music class for children ages 4 through 7. This course will incorporate singing, creative movement, and elements of rhythm through the educational techniques of Carl Orff, whose methods have revolutionized music education.

FALL FASHIONS SHOWN
By Robert Varga. The big top, soft and fluid lines, blouses with bowed necklines, longer lengths and hats were some of the fashion trends Robert Varga featured at his Fall 1974 showing last week.

Mr. Varga opened the show, the first he has narrated at the Route One store, with a navy and vicuna suit by Anne Klein. The shirt jacket and below-the-knee flared skirt were set off by - what else but a beret. Of all the Fall's accessories, hats are the most essential.

Once again Anne Klein has added to her black petit point collection. This year's additions are a soft 10-gored bias skirt and a big top jacket with a tied waist and the characteristic dropped shoulders. These were set off by a white blouse softly bowed at the neck and a bright red beret.

The nice thing about this collection is that you can add to it each year. For instance, if you bought the skirt last year, skip this year's version and add the big top. Anne Klein's clothes are priced separately from $70 for the blouse to $172 for the navy jacket.

Mr. Varga showed the store's ability to accessorize by adding a small leopard print blouse with a matching sheer scarf, a reptile purse and hat to Calvin Klein's natural cashmere and wool coat and slacks. This is a handsome classic look that any woman should enjoy for many seasons.

Another Calvin Klein design combines a cinnamon big top wrap jacket with herringbone pants and a jacquard print blouse (again with the bow at the neck). The interesting combinations here exemplify Mr. Varga's love for patterns worked within co-ordinating colors.

Skirts Regaining Popularity. Although pants have become part of a woman's basic wardrobe, skirts have regained much of their past popularity and Cachera has some of the prettiest.

One style has a dropped waistline with many soft full pleats and another with pockets and a fly front has a front fold that gives the skirt an easy flare, $80 each. Narrow belts set off most of this season's skirts and high heels are in order as they are all below the knee.

Capes are another 1974 Fall fashion item. They are long, giving you yards of fabric to swish around in. Boots are back, and in completing the look don't forget a hat and fur boa -- even if the cape has a hood.

The cape appears to be one of the season's best buys. We saw a sand or dark green one for $64 and a green tweed by Gale Kirkpatrick for $90, but our favorite was a blanket plaid designed by Robert Varga himself in a soft green and blue with touches of red.

Following Jackie's Lead. Last year Jackie Onassis wore a fur-trimmed sweater and immediately Seventh Avenue designers began working. Although it is perfect with either pants or a skirt, it will undoubtedly be worn over a soft blouse with a bowed neckline. Robert Varga has a selection of these, including a grey and white striped knit trimmed with silver fox on the collar and cuffs, $84.

This fall Robert Varga is into dresses which he feels should be loose on the top, tied at the waist and fluid in the skirts -- everything that is new. Two and three piece knit are a perennial favorite, but this year they are softer than ever and have more of a sweater look.

For instance from Molly Parnis Boutique comes a lovely cream colored bloused knit dress topped by a shawl collared sweater, $145; and by Don Sophisticates there is an adaptation of the classic Channel suit with a deep rose blouse (bow at the neck) under a blue tweed sweater jacket and soft skirt, $95.

Matte jersey and chiffon are in abundance for after 5 wear and the short cocktail dress is making a reappearance. From the Molly Parnis Boutique we saw a garnet colored matte jersey with long sleeves, a sash at the waist, and a soft, floppy skirt, $165.

There is also a knock-out long version with a halter back, narrow belt accented by a rhinestone buckle and a long unlined cardigan coat. The fluidness of the skirt is flattering as it clings over the top of the hips and then flares out, $295.

Stephen Burrows is a new black designer who is making quite a name for himself with what Mr. Varga describes as "special clothes for special people and special places." He loves chiffon which he leaves unlined but creates fullness by layering it. The effect is soft and beautiful.

One of Mr. Burrows designs is a two-piece aquamarine chiffon dress with a short top flaring out over a long skirt, and another is a hot pink chiffon pajama with a long-sleeved wrap blouse topping wide flowing pants, $240 and $235 respectively.

Robert Varga, located on Route One by Texas Avenue, is open Monday through Saturday from 10 to 6 with Thursday and Friday evening hours until 9.

NEW STORE TO OPEN

In New Hope. A new store featuring after-five fashions and evening accessories is set to open in New Hope this Thursday, with the avowed combination classroom-private lesson situation. The aim of making the shopping trip to New York or Philadelphia unnecessary.

"Applause!" owned and managed by Alice Kennedy, will seek to introduce the newest styles at the same time—or even before—they're put on the racks at stores in the city, thus saving women the time and expense of a trip.

Located on Route 202, at the new bridge spur, the store features all the current evening wear from long and the group may choose its dresses to evening skirts, own repertoire.

Township to Collect Yard Debris Next Week

Princeton Township will conduct a special collection of tree limbs, branches and grass clippings beginning next Monday, September 23, and continuing through Friday, September 27. This is the only collection being planned at this time.

- Collection materials should be placed at curbside before 8 a.m.
- Brush should be tied in bundles, using string or rope. No wires, please. The bundles should be no greater than 4 feet in length and no greater than 12 inches in diameter.
- Individual branches and limbs which are greater than 2 inches in diameter need not be bound, but should be no longer than 5 feet.
- Grass clippings and brush which cannot be bundled, should be placed in non-returnable plastic or heavy paper bags.
- No stumps will be collected.
- Materials placed for pickup after a street has been collected will not be picked up a second time.

The collection schedule will be by election districts as follows:

Monday	Districts 1 and 4
Tuesday	Districts 5-6-10
Wednesday	Districts 3-9-12
Thursday	Districts 2-11
Friday	Districts 7-8-13

If Two Princetonians Consolidate, Committee Report Reveals

(This is the second of three articles prepared by the Joint Consolidation Committee on the impact of possible merger of the town's two municipalities. A public meeting on the question will be held Wednesday, October 2, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.)

The Joint Consolidation Committee of Princeton, an advisory committee to the governing bodies of the Borough and Township, has been studying the desirability and feasibility of consolidating Princeton Borough and Princeton Township. The adopted ten-member Committee, consisting of five Borough residents and five Township residents, was created by same municipal attorney, to parallel resolutions of the assure more efficient Borough and Township utilization of his time. Without has been meeting regularly since November 1973. In carrying out its assignment, the Committee has been studying the operations of both municipal governments. With consolidation, some including all joint operations, additional savings in time required for legal services would result because of a reduction in the number of times the attorney must attend municipal meetings and consolidated department. Community.

In addition, with only one governing body and no joint membership of the volunteer fire companies is drawn from both municipalities. The cost of operations and equipment for the companies is shared between the municipalities on the basis of taxable ratables.

As a consequence, consolidation would not change either operations or fiscal support of the fire companies. They would remain volunteer companies.

Under consolidation, it is expected that fewer court sessions would be held, but already. In most of these joint duration. Only one violations operation are shared between the two municipalities on the work load would result. Consequently there would be no reduction in the number of therefore, cause no shift in the employees.

However, the need for an additional employee at some future time would be deferred, through either one of them. If because the Township's consolidation does not come in effect, consolidated they would be of longer duration. Only one violations operation are shared between the two municipalities on the work load would result. Consequently there would be no reduction in the number of therefore, cause no shift in the employees.

Other Functions. Next week's article on economy in the size of the police effects it might have on reach a common policy. There would be no necessity for consolidation. Traffic problems would remain untax collection and tax rates.

PRINCETON ADMITS 20 As 'Special Students.'

Princeton University has admitted 20 area residents as special students in continuing education for the fall semester. The Program for Continuing Education, made possible by a Rockefeller Grant, is designed to admit a limited number of local residents to the regularly scheduled graduate and undergraduate courses at the University.

Of the 35 applications considered for admission, 6 men and 14 women were accepted whose ages range from a 19-year-old Soviet emigre to a 53-year-old retired foreign service officer. The students will be taking courses in 18 different departments including Engineering, Physics, Sociology, English and Art and Archaeology. The educational backgrounds of the Continuing Education students included eight without B.A. degrees, six with B.A. or B.S. degrees and six with master's degrees.

The program has been approved on an experimental basis, making it possible in the future for 50 to 100 continuing education students to participate fully in the courses to which they are admitted, to be graded and receive certificates of successful completion for each course. Continuing education students are not degree candidates.

Individuals interested in applying for second semester courses may write or phone the new Center for Continuing Education at 5 Ivy Lane.

The admitted students include Loy A. Carrington, 47 Harriet Drive; Jo Ann Connell, 54 North Tulane Street; Sara Dickinson, 218-A Marshall Street; Edwin Eubanks, 27 Valley Road; Roderick Ferris, 649 Rosedale Road; and Lawrence Hall, 6 Van Kirk Road.

Also Aline Johnson, 231 Snowden Lane; Lila Norris, Heather Lane R.D. 5; Elizabeth Rose, 112 Galbreath Drive; Caroline Roth, 102 Moore street; Gary Saretzky, 16 Charlton Street; Carol Stoy, 221 Herrontown Road; and Margaret Tetzeli, 336 Rosedale Road.

Also Jane Weber, 1-D Magie; Claire Weibel, Vanderlinden, 504 Lawrence Apartments; and Ruth Dilley, Grandview Avenue, Hopewell.

WOMEN'S FESTIVAL SET FOR THIS WEEKEND. The Princeton University Women's Center, a student organization, will sponsor its first annual Women's Festival Friday through Sunday on the university campus.

The public is invited to participate in all of the Festival activities, which include a theater presentation of the history of the feminist movement in the U.S. by "Bread and Roses," a New York-based group, on Friday

SELF-EXPRESSION.... Through Writing, Theatre. Self-expression through writing stories and poems, making plays and films and working with all media is the aim of Helikon, a new program for adults and children that will begin in Princeton the week of September 30. A 12-week term is planned.

An Open House, providing an opportunity to learn more about Helikon, will be held this Wednesday, September 18, from 4-6 at the Unitarian Church (Cherry Hill Road and Route 206), where the classes will be held. A second Open House will take place next Tuesday from 4-7, also at the church.

Helikon, ancient home of the Greek poets, was founded by Mimi Schwartz and Kathy Kenfield, both of whom taught English at Stuart Country Day School for several years. They are presently developing new creative writing courses at Rutgers in the doctoral program of the English department. They will work with Freddie Cagan, theatre major at Lawrence University in Wisconsin, who now runs the theatre program at Kent Place School in Summit.

For children, Helikon offers "Open Door Arts" for youngsters in grades one and two, providing an introduction to creative expression. The class will be held Tuesdays from 2 to 3:15 p.m. Boys and girls in grades three and four are invited to explore "Poetry Through Playmaking" on Tuesday afternoons from 3:45 to 5:15. "Playing with Words and Films" is for grades five through seven on Wednesday afternoons from 1:30 to 3.

Adults may investigate "Movement, Drama & The Word" on Wednesday evenings from 8-10. This class, to be taught by Ann Feshbach of the staff of the Herbert Berghot Studio in New York, has been given at Rutgers University since 1972.

Another adult offering is the Scribblers' Studio, Wednesday mornings from 10 to 11:45. Expository writing for adults is also to be given and may be arranged by appointment.

FASHION SHOW PLANNED For PDS Scholarship Fund. The Princeton Day School Scholarship Fund will benefit from a fashion show featuring fall clothes, presented by Bonwit Teller.

The showing, which will include a paella-sangria luncheon, will take place at 12:30 Thursday, September 19, in the garden of Mrs. Lucretia Carney, 94 Rosedale Road. It is sponsored by the Parents Association in conjunction with the Outgrown Shop.

Tickets are $8.50, and $5 is deductible as a contribution to the Scholarship Fund, according to co-chairmen Mrs. Carney and Mrs. Martha Vaughn. In addition to the presentation by Bonwit Teller, the Outgrown Shop, Jewels Fargo and Mrs. Erica Barton, who hand paints pants, dresses, etc., will exhibit. For reservations, call Mrs. Nancy Carmody at 359-3588. In case of rain the show will be moved from Mrs. Carney's garden to the Mirror of America, South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell.

p.m. in the Princeton High School library. One or both parents should attend with a student who wishes to apply. Any students who cannot attend this meeting should get in touch with their school's AFS representative.

SANTA HOUSE OFFERED
By Shopping Center. The Princeton Shopping Center is forced to part with its Santa House. The colorful house, decorated with lollipops and candy canes is no longer being used and cannot be stored.

The building is approximately 15' x 15', has two doors, one large window, two electric heaters and is wired. It is presently being stored in the basement of Freese Camera Shop on the Mall.

Its pre-fabricated walls, roof and floor can be assembled easily. After 12 years of service to the center, the house does need some work done to it to make it completely weatherproof, but it is basically sound and painted inside and out.

Anyone, or organization interested in the house should contact Freese Camera.

NEW YEAR TO START
No. 19 for Sharon Studio. The 19th year of classes at the Sharon Studio will begin Tuesday. Naomi Sharon graduating from Rutgers University in January with majors in Art and Psychology will offer a class for 6-8 year old children.

Miss Sharon assisted in the teaching of classes at the Sharon Studio last year. She also studied at the Manhattan Center for Advanced Psychoanalytic Studies where she assisted with the Art Therapy program. She subscribes to the progressive approach - teaching the child, yet encouraging him to remain an individual.

The program will stress a creative approach to the use of a variety of material and tools. This semester the class will work with plastics, ceramics, metal etching, stone sculpture, painting in acrylics and water color, wire work, etc. The class will meet on Tuesday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:15 sessions.

"I'm a drop-out from Weight Watchers, Lean-line and Tops," she smiles. "Then I read about Overeaters Anonymous and wrote to California where it was founded, to find out where it met around here. Well, there were chapters in Metuchen and Bradley Beach—too far. But this summer when I went to the shore, I tried the Bradley Beach meetings, and they were fantastic! I got leadership training there and the confidence to start up a group here."

Sound familiar? If it does, and if you are a compulsive eater, you're invited to join Overeaters Anonymous, and attend the group's weekly meeting each Monday from 8:10 p.m. at Princeton House on Mt. Lucas Road.

Weight isn't necessarily the problem of a compulsive eater, say members of the group. You can be thin and still have the problem (but if that is indeed the case, a visit to the doctor is recommended).

Overeaters Anonymous operates just like Alcoholics Anonymous. Members are known only by first names, and they read all the A.A. literature in order to adapt A.A. programs to their own needs.

"Before you take that first compulsive bite," says "Mary," who founded the Princeton chapter, "you call someone on the list—just like A.A. members before they take that first drink. It's a physical, emotional and spiritual program of group support."

At meetings, members hear speakers or simply discuss their common problems and how they have tried to solve them.

UPSTATE TOUR PLANNED

By Historical Society. A weekend visit to New Paltz, N.Y., to visit houses dating from 1692 to 1814, is being planned for October 12 and 13 by the Historical Society of Princeton. Reservations for the trip, which is open to the public, must be made by this Friday.

The trip will include a stop in Kingston, N.Y., to visit the Senate House there. After an overnight stay at the Red Bull Motor Inn in Hyde Park, the group will tour Roosevelt's home and the opulent, 19th century Vanderbilt and Mills mansions. A dinner stop will be made en route home.

The bus will leave at 8 Saturday from the Acme end of the Princeton Shopping Center and return at about 9 Sunday.

night to Princeton. A charge of $70 for a single, and $130 for a double occupancy, includes all admissions, meals and arrangements, as well as a $10 tax-deductible donation to the Society.

For information call 921-6748 or inquire at the Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street.

SAFETY COURSE SET

For Future Hunters. The 15th annual hunter safety course for those 10 and older who wish to obtain their initial hunting license will be sponsored by the Princeton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association under the direction of Twp. Ptl. Walter V. Emann. Those who successfully complete the course will be awarded the state-required certificate for the purchase of a firearms hunting license.

The course consists of three classes which will be held October 5 from 8 to 12 noon, October 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. and October 12 from 8 to 12 noon at the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Club of N.J. on the Princeton-Hightstown Road. Guns and ammunition are not to be brought to the first two classes.

Applications are available at all sport stores or at police headquarters in the Borough, Township and West Windsor. Enrollment is limited and will be on a first-come basis.

FIREMEN PLAN DINNER
At Griggstown Firehouse. The Griggstown Volunteer Fire Company will hold its pig roast dinner on Saturday, September 21, at the firehouse on Canal Road. Serving hours will be from 5 to 8. Admission is $4 for adults with children under 10 admitted for $1.50.

PEOPLE In The News

Dr. Kurt Mislow, 38 Raymond F. Male, 76 Cedar MacLean Circle, Hugh Stott Lane, former New Jersey Taylor Professor of Chemistry, Commissioner of Labor and at Princeton University, has Industry and Chairman of the been named the 1975 recipient State Civil Service Cam-of the American Chemical Society's $2,000 James Flack Norris Award in Physical Affairs of Thomas A. Edison College.

A pioneer in his field of study, Dr. Mislow is today the responsible for building leading scientist in the area of stereochemistry — the study of chemical compounds in three dimensions. This field is important to synthesis, enzyme chemistry, and to explanations of how reactions occur.

When Dr. Mislow began to publish his work in stereochemistry in 1950, according to a statement from the ACE, "that field of chemistry was in disarray. His early contributions established important new insights and brought clarity to the subject. His work of the past five years in applying new theory to stereochemistry is blazing an entirely new trail."

A naturalized citizen, Dr. Mislow was born in Berlin, Germany, in 1923. He received the B.S. in chemistry at Tulane University in 1944 and the Ph.D. in organic chemistry at the California Institute of Technology in 1947. In 1964 he was appointed the first Hugh Stott Taylor Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University, and he served as chairman of the chemistry department from 1968 to 1974.

During World War II, Dr. Mislow as a civilian in service with the Office of Scientific Research and Development. He was a Guggenheim Fellow in 1956 and a Sloan Fellow in 1959.

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Goldman, 113 Guggenheim Museum, Washington Creek Road; and Chrysler Art Museum, the William J. Shaffer, son of Mr. Whitney Museum, and the and Mrs. Irving E. Shaffer, 5 Museum of Modern Art, Meadow Lane, both Pennington.

James Seawright, a sculptor whose works have drawn praise in exhibitions from New York's Lincoln Center to London's Institute of Contemporary Art, is the newly named acting director of the Visual Arts Program at Princeton.

A full-time lecturer at Princeton from 1969 through 1973, he taught part-time last year as one of a team of four visiting sculptors who directed an advanced sculpture course.

Mr. Seawright recently was commissioned to do an unusual outdoor work for the New Jersey State Museum in Trenton. The four-part environmental concept will convert daytime sunlight and nighttime artificial light into a "brilliant, scintillating beacon of color," according to the artist.

Born in Greenwood, Miss., and educated at the University of Mississippi and the Art Students' League of New York, Mr. Seawright also has been associated for more than a decade with the Columbia-Princeton Electronic Music Center in New York, working with Princeton composer Milton Babbitt. He has served as a stage technician with choreographer Alwin Nikolais and has collaborated with him in the fusion of light and sound with dance and in the composition of electronic music.

News Of Clubs and Organizations

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will meet on Monday at 8 at the Squad home on North Harrison Street.

A flower arrangement workshop will be sponsored by the Dogwood Garden Club of Princeton. It will consist of six sessions, beginning September 27. The other sessions will be on October 11, 18 and 25.

Lectures and demonstrations will be given by Mrs. H.M. Kistner, a specialist in 18th century flower arranging. Mrs. Kistner has planned many weddings and parties, including several affairs for the Duchess of Windsor and Princess Grace of Monaco. The workshop will be held at the home of Mrs. Sherwood Skillman, the Garden Club president.

A poetry reading group will meet at 8 Wednesday, September 25, at Princeton Public Library.

Poets of all ages get together once a month over coffee to read and discuss their work. Successive versions of some poems have been read at various meetings, as the members profit by their colleagues' comments. It is suggested that those who wish to read their work bring several types copies of the poems for use during the discussion.

The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has announced the opening of its 1974-5 fund drive and the results of its 1973-4 efforts. The 1973-4 drive has netted more than $46,000 to date, while the previous years' total was $38,000.

Although the 1973-4 drive total sets a record, an even greater effort will be required this year, due to inflation and the need to modernize to keep pace with the available technology. Residents will receive solicitations in the mail by the end of September, and are asked to send contributions to P.O. Box 529, Princeton.

Miss Ellen Gould, a sophomore at Princeton High School, will perform in an all-Gershwin program Thursday at 8:15 for the Princeton Chapter of Hadassah.

Miss Gould is the 15-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gould, 102 Philip Drive. She is a voice student of Milton Lyon, who will accompany her in the program.

The meeting will be held at the Jewish Center. For more information and transportation call Mrs. Murray Bornstein 799-2286, or Mrs. Mark Pollard 921-1699.

Mrs. Mary Bunting, former President of Radcliffe and currently Assistant to the President for Special Projects at Princeton University, will conduct an informal discussion on continuing education at the meeting Tuesday of Princeton Single Parents (a chapter of Parents Without Partners International). Princeton Single Parents meets the fourth Tuesday of every month in the Nassau Presbyterian Church.

The Princeton Squares dance club will again conduct a series of square dance lessons for beginners starting Tuesday, October 1, from 8-10 at Princeton High School. The lessons are open to couples at $25 per couple for a ten-week term. Couples can register this Thursday at Princeton High School, by mail through the Princeton Adult School or at the first lesson on October 1.

Club level dancers are welcome to dance at Princeton Squares on the second and fourth Fridays of each month at the Community Park School. Questions about the pickup of heavy items should be directed to Mrs. Doris Mellinger, 924-0292, or Mrs. Kathy Rusher, 359-5040.

Daniel Seltzer

Daniel Seltzer, professor of English at Princeton University and president of the Board of Trustees at McCarter Theatre, will speak on the "Theater Today" at the opening meeting of the Woman's Club of Princeton this Thursday at 1:30 at the Shrine Club, River Road. A graduate of Princeton, Dr. Seltzer did further work at Oxford under a Folbright Fellowship. He received his Ph.D. from Harvard University where he began his teaching career. A specialist in Shakespeare studies, he has written and lectured about the techniques of Elizabethan stage practice and the growth of Shakespeare's dramatic art. Dr. Seltzer has acted in and directed many plays including those of Shakespeare and several contemporary authors.

Dr. William J. Beeners will speak at the opening session of the Women's College Club on "The Power of Wordless Persuasion" on Monday at 1:30 at All Saints Chapel. He will discuss how body movements and the voice relate to one's personality. Dr. Beeners has been a professor of speech at Princeton Theological Seminary for more than 25 years, and is currently active in radio, television and films.

The Rummage Sale Committee of the Auxiliary - Princeton Medical Center has named committee chairmen for the fall sale, to be held September 29 through October 2 at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, 454 Terhune Road. Mrs. Kathy Rusher is chairman of the Sale, aided by the following:

Appliances: Mrs. Joseph Grazel, Mrs. Marshall Sittig; books: Mrs. Phillip Porado; bric-a-brac: Mrs. F. M. Bushnell, Mrs. Herbert Davison; children's clothing: Mrs. Clarence Johnson; counter clothes: Mrs. Alfred Rozas, Mrs. Lillian Sabatella; draperies: Mrs. Walter Hall, Mrs. W. P. Knowles; furniture: Mrs. Walker Stevenson.

Also, hats, belts, bags: Mrs. Edward Kopp, Mrs. Clifford Reed; jewelry: Mrs. Albert Stives, Mrs. Elmer Chase; kitchen: Miss Edith Richards, Mrs. Leon Lapidus; men's clothing: Mrs. Donald Page, Mrs. H. S. Reichard; shoes: Mrs. Jordan Young, Mrs. Donald Boom; toys: Mrs. J. J. Opperman, Mrs. Levin J. Peek; women's clothing: Mrs. Henry Munson, Mrs. Roger Edwards.

Hospitality will be headed by Mrs. Norman Jackson, and clean-up by Mrs. William Van Den Heuvel. Receiving all donations on Sunday and Monday, September 29 and 30, is under the direction of Mrs. C. Dickey Dyer and Mrs. Burton Weisbecker. Hours those days are from 9 to 5. Questions about the pickup of heavy items should be directed to Mrs. Doris Mellinger, 924-0292, or Mrs. Kathy Rusher, 359-5040.

Donations, except major appliances, are welcomed. Jewelry, especially, is a big seller, and Mrs. Stives asks everyone to sort through jewelry boxes for items to donate. Phone her at 924-1538 for pickup in advance of the sale. Small appliances have been popular, along with electronic equipment and musical items. Testing equipment will be available. TV's are also needed, if working and delivered by the donor.

West Windsor-Plainsboro PTS's first general membership meeting will take place Monday, September 30, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the high school. Among the items already collected for the sale are wicker chairs, a complete golf set, book case, old trunks, a typewriter, a calculator, office furniture and more.

The New Jersey State Student Nurse's Association will hold a statewide rally on Saturday, September 28, at Washington's Crossing State Park in the Open Air Theater from noon to dusk; admission is 25 cents.

The purpose of the rally is to unite all the nursing students in New Jersey, recognizing that all the programs represent the nursing profession as a whole.

Cuh Pack 146 of Montgomery Township will hold its first meeting of the school year at 7:30 on Friday, October 4, in the all-purpose room in the Burnt Hill Road School. Boys interested in joining the Pack as well as adults who may wish to serve on the Pack Committee may contact either Nancy Backer at 921-3844 or Stan Strychniewicz at 466-2961.

St. Paul's School will hold a rummage sale on Friday, October 4 from 9 to 3. Any usable items may be deposited in the basement of the church or left at the school. In case of rain, the sale will be held in the school cafeteria.

ART In Princeton

READY FOR CLASS?
Art Association to Open.
Classes will begin Monday,
September 30, for the eight-week fall semester of the Princeton Art Association. Registrations are now being accepted at the studio, 3
Spring Street, or may be made by telephone at 921-9173.
Membership in the PAA, a requirement for registration, may be obtained at the time of registration.

Two new weekend classes have been added to the PAA schedule. "Painting on Saturday Morning" with Elizabeth Monath, will offer various painting methods for young people. "Promoting Growth with Creative Expression" will be given on Sunday afternoons by Edith Kogan for adults.

Both beginners and more experienced artists are welcome at PAA courses.
Drawing, watercolor, sketching, painting in acrylics or oils, collage and print-making will all be offered. A course in experimental carving, and young artists to a variety of media in which art is combined with poetry, stories, music and movement. "Print-making" will show basic techniques and press-work to those 11 years of age and older.

EXHIBIT OPENS

At Loft Art Gallery. The opening exhibit in the fine art room of the Loft Art Gallery includes the paintings of Peter Issitt and Eugenia Eckford-Rhoads.

A resident of Delaware,
Mrs. Rhoads has exhibited in the southern and eastern United States. She has won awards for oil, watercolor and pencil studies.

There is great sensitivity and adept handling of line and color. Mrs. Rhoads uses all the sophistication of the impressionistic style. Although her palette is filled with bright hues, she evokes a delicacy of mood in landscapes and flower studies.

A member of many fine art organizations, Mrs. Rhoads works to further art appreciation. Her paintings are included in many private and public collections

Mr. Issitt lives in Cambridge, England. It was his introduction to the world of posters which brought his talent for art to the surface.
His only formal training was at the Cambridgeshire College of Arts and Technology. But it was not until much later in life that he was able to take time from his busy commercial activities to begin expressing his inner thoughts through the fine art media.

Mr. Issitt works to a specific color spectrum with which he can create mood as well as emotion. His highly original style and forms take on a realistic tone.

NEW GALLERY TO OPEN

At One Palmer Square. The Apogee Gallery will open its doors to the public at One Palmer Square on Friday with an exhibition of some 40 artists. Alexander Calder, Joan Miro, Will Barnet, Richard Anuszkiewicz, Jean Folon, are a few of the better-known artists currently on display.

Silkscreens, etchings, woodcuts, lithographs, in signed and numbered editions are available, both unframed and framed. No one style is predominant -- the prints run the gamut from the swirl patterned collages of the German artist Werner
Pfeiffer to the brilliant color images of the Englishman
Peter Gee, to the optical art of Anuszkiewicz and the flat decorative figures of Will Barnet.

Apogee Gallery will have a changing exhibition monthly featuring major artists along with its continuous display of its permanent collection. The gallery is open Tuesday-Sunday from 11 to 6 or by appointment.

SPORTS FANS!

Brought to you

Here's an oddity about one of the great runners in pro football, Larry Csonka. . . When Csonka played college ball at Syracuse in his sophomore year, it was said that he was too big to be a good runner and so he was used the whole season as a linebacker. . . The only way he ever became a running back was because somebody got hurt and Csonka asked if he could try running!

Who was the oldest man ever to hold a world boxing championship? . . . Did you know that Archie Moore was the light-heavyweight champion of the world in 1961 at the age of 48?

Here's a football oddity . . . No team that has led the National Football League in passing has ever won the Super Bowl . . . The Super Bowl has been won every year by a team that did NOT finish No. 1 in passing.

I bet you didn't know that people over 65 can buy catastrophe accident and sickness insurance with a limit of $100,000. It is written over medicare and does not require evidence of insurability.

Development of Interior Linemen Is Essential To Success of PHS Football in Coming Season

The Little Tigers got their first baptism of fire for the new season last week when they scrimmage visiting Manalapan in the rain. Saturday they will scrimmage Howell Township and the following Saturday, Freehold. The latter will be a double scrimmage, with sessions morning and afternoon. Both scrimmages are away.

"It was pretty even; no one really scored," commented Jim Beachell, who reported the two teams played the equivalent of half a game. Beachell is starting his first season as head coach at PHS.

Offensively, fullback Eric Ziolkowski ran well for good yardage per carry. Another who showed up well running was sophomore Kenny Bullock, a 5-8, 155 pound speedster. "He really flew," Beachell commented.

Both quarterbacks also looked good. Pete Watson, who missed the first days of practice with an illness, completed four of six pass attempts, while Tommy Thomas had the better edge in running.

Defensively, where PHS has lost heavily through graduation, Beachell reported that veteran Alex Kinnan and Craig Rendell and Pete Soderman all played well. Inside, the team looked good; the perimeter defense is still a little ragged, however. Overall, Beachell said that he has been satisfied with progress so far.

One of his disappointments, he said, was not being able to use some promising transfer students, particularly senior Nate Harris and junior back Bobby McHugh, both former Hun players.

Beachell explained that the transfer process, which must be cleared through state channels, requires 30 days. Until then, transfers cannot participate in any game or scrimmage. As a result, Harris and McHugh will have to miss the September 28 opener against Hamilton but will be eligible for the second game—the team's home opener—against Ewing.

This week, TOWN TOPICS will continue its report on the team by examining the line personnel.

Center. Three senior candidates for center are Jim Adriance, 6-2, 180; Steve Bauer, 5-11, 168; and Tyler Jones, 6-0, 175. Adriance saw limited varsity action last season, while Bauer played mostly defense. Forced to sit out his sophomore season with a broken leg, Jones was listed as tackle and guard last year and was used sparingly.

Most likely to nail down the position is Nate Lewis, a junior transfer from Hun. Lewis, who played fullback as a freshman, is a solid 196, 6-0.

"This kid is tough; this kid is good," said Beachell.

Another junior prospect for center is Jim Lennon.

Guard. The loss of junior Vince Ader who moved to Montgomery has forced Beachell to rethink the guard position. He had pictured Ader as a starting guard along with senior Alex Kinnan. "That hurt," he said.

Kinnan broke in as a linebacker his sophomore year and the 180-pounder, as tough and hardnosed as they come, has been used extensively ever since. He heads a group of four seniors vying for the guard position this fall.

The others include Richard Saunders, 6-1, 180, who has had no varsity experience; Arthur Keigler, 6-0, 171, who has played the sport before but not last year; and Ken Hill.

Hill, 6-2, 182, the biggest of the four, was a member of the varsity last year but did not see much action.

Two juniors are Craig Rendell and Andy Cahill. Rendell, younger brother of Keith Hendell, a standout tackle for the Blue and White last year, is 200 and 6-1. Beachell described him as fast for his size. Cahill is 6-0 and 30 pounds lighter than Rendell.

Tackle. Co-captain Dave Harwood, Dan Poling, Keith Rendell, and Angelo Arcaro, a quartet of fine tackles last year, are all gone but, surprisingly, Beachell still welcomes back one more returning letterman at the position—John Costas, 5-11, 200, and a solid performer.

Also listed on last season's varsity chart is the biggest player on the squad: 6-3 Mike Michael who weighs in at 275 pounds. "He's good straight ahead; not many can move him out of the way," Beachell commented.

Among other senior candidates are George Pezdirtz, 170, 5-10, a varsity player last year who did not letter; Glenn Conti, 195, 5-11, out for the first time, and a transfer student from Pennsylvania where he played football, Ray Brower.

Brower is 6-2½ and 180. Said Beachell of Brower, "He's tough and he's looked good in practice."

And then there's Pete Soderman. Although he did not come out last year, Soderman has played the sport before and Beachell is already saying that he should develop into a prime college prospect.

Beachell reported that the 6-4, 225-pound Soderman has engaged in a weight program for the past two years. "He's the strongest lineman I have ever seen. He can bench press 300 pounds."

Another attribute: a good attitude. "As you can see, I'm pretty high on him," said Beachell.

Junior prospects are Steve Mapes, John Hoover and Anthony Cirullo. Cirullo is the biggest at 185, 5-7. He is a cousin of Bill Cirullo, a member of Beachell's coaching staff and like Beachell, a former PHS player.

End. Pre-eminent is senior Steve Tomlinson, 193, 6-1, a returning letterman and last year's field goal and extra point kicker. Beachell labels Tomlinson a top end prospect and predicts he will capture all-county honors.

Despite his size, Tomlinson, says Beachell, is the fastest player on the squad. His hands

Tigers '74 Offense Ready to Show More Teeth; Defense Blanks Wesleyan, Wilkes in Scrimmages

Ten days before its opener with Rutgers in Palmer Stadium Princeton's 1974 football team is beginning to emerge in the shape that will see it through the first third of the season. The Tigers have high hopes that they can travel to Hanover with a 2-0 mark, something they have not achieved since 1970.

September pre-season practice, including a pair of scrimmages last week against Wesleyan and Wilkes, has served to nail down starting assignments on offense for nine players indicated as logical choices on paper some months ago, and to give two others the heady feeling that they have displaced the early favorites at their positions. These personnel switches, together with other battles for top spots on the depth chart on both platoons, give welcome proof that greater depth exists among the current Tiger squad than was available in 1973.

The pair of new comers to the tentative starting lineup on offense are a split end, junior Kevin Gropp, and a sophomore tackle, Kevin Fox. Gropp, 6-2, 185, was second on the depth charge after having spent last fall with the varsity B team. His progress has permitted Coach Bob Cascioli to move another junior, letterman Neil Chamberlin, to flanker back, where he has won the job from Bill Napier, a two-year letterman.

VETERAN AS A JUNIOR: Bob Reid, 202-lb running back, will pair with Walt Snickenberger in Princeton backfield after earning his letter as a sophomore.

Fox, the lone sophomore scheduled to start on this platoon, is a 6-2, 225-lb. tackle. He has been switched from the guard position he played last year as a freshman and has made the conversion well enough to supplant Verne Sedlacek, a varsity holdover who played with the 1973 B squad.

Nine Lettermen to Start. The Tigers will, accordingly, put nine lettermen; Gropp, a 1973 varsity reserve; and Fox, the sophomore, on the field when they take possession of the ball. Good experience will be available in the backfield, where quarterback Ron Beible, a 6-1, 195-lb. junior started the last eight games while learning as a sophomore, and Walt Snickenberger, and Bob Reid are the running backs. Snickenberger, an All-Ivy choice last fall despite a 1972, averaged 5.3 yards per carry and has topflight broken field ability.

Reid, pairing with him, uses his 6-2, 202-lb. frame as a skilled blocking back when not serving as a ball carrier and will add authority to the offense as a junior with a year's varsity experience behind him. Chamberlin, at flanker back, was the leading receiver on his freshman team two years ago and showed rapid progress during the last half of the 1973 season as a varsity newcomer.

There are five new faces in the seven positions on the offensive line. Only tight end Bob Harding, a 6-3, 220-lb. two-year letterman, and Hank Healey, a light (185) but durable guard who won his letter last fall as sophomore, are back from the 1973 regulars.

Gropp will go at split end, while the tackles are Fox and 235-lb. Tony Biagas, who played behind Healey at guard last fall. Pairing with the latter at guard will be junior Joe Zajac, a 220-pounder who started four games as a sophomore but was slowed by a nagging neck injury.

Line Averages 215. At center will be the versatile Warren Gorrell, who won his letter at the position while understudying Jim Rafeedie but was good enough to be converted to tackle when Karl Chandler (now with the New York Giants) was injured. The line at 215 is about average in size. On its ability to pave the way for Snickenberger and Reid and to protect Beible on pass plays will hinge much of the Tigers' success this fall.

Only twice in nine games last year did the Princeton offense score more than two touchdowns, while in three contests it managed a total of just 12 points. Unless vast improvement in this department is forthcoming, the rebuilding defense will rarely manage to keep any opponent in sight.

In the pair of scrimmages last week, plus signs for Princeton very clearly outnumbered the minus signs, but the truth of the matter is that had it been otherwise against Wesleyan and Wilkes, cause for verified pessimism would now be rampant around these parts. Players on the lower echelons of the depth chart were primarily used against Wesleyan, scoring twice on sustained drives while keeping the Connecticut college from crossing the goal line and limiting its total offense to 157 yards.

Princeton's attack was led primarily by quarterback Greg Adams and running backs Art Walker, Mike Carter and Mike Fioranti. Adams, four for ten in passing for 39 yards and another 28 in five carries, has progressed to the point where he is now Beible's immediate reserve.

Two Backs Gain 183 Yards. Snickenberger showed to considerable advantage on Saturday against Wilkes, running for a total gain of 103 yards and an average of better than six per carry. Reid added 80 in ten carries for a fine average and topped off a solid afternoon by taking the ball in twice. Senior Dave Mistretta, a quarterback for two years who will now serve solely as a running back, and junior Francis Allen also ran with authority.

Defensively, Wilkes was thoroughly contained, rushing for 152 yards and completing just three of 16 passes for a total of 25. The Pennsylvanians were also guilty of half a dozen fumbles, four of them the result of driving tackles by the Orange and Black.

Good linebacking by junior Ken Frederick and sophomore Hank Howarth was a high spot of the Princeton defense. the big question mark on this platoon is how the backfield will fare; it was thin even before letterman Rich Hopstock dropped out of college after his sophomore year and Rich Monaghan, a classmate who had also won his letter last fall, fractured his collarbone. Wilkes lacked the offensive ability to test the up secondary, so the jury will be out until after the season begins.

The only glaring deficiency Saturday's scrimmage was the passing game, which saw the two quarterbacks used best, Beibie and junior John Murray, charged with five interceptions. Most of these displays were underthrown, and picked off; at least three of them were launched despite the fact that the intended receiver was thoroughly covered.

The statistics were wretched: of 19 attempts by this pair, only seven were completed and five others went to the opposition. Fortunately, Beibie's 1973 credentials (79 out of 161 for nearly 50 per cent and 1023 yards) far outweigh a performance barely two weeks into the new season. If he can match last year's figures, blending them with a better running game generated by Snickenberger and Reid, the Tigers can at least eye the .500 mark with reason on their side.

Sports in Princeton

are so large, he added, that he "engulfs" the ball. Beachell also commented that Tomlinson has benefited from attending a football camp this summer and "is really putting out." A big plus for the offense. He scored on a 29-yard pass last year in the 35-0 rout of Hun School.

The other senior end is John Madden and like Tomlinson, a returning letterman, although he did not play extensively last year. He is 5-10, 160.

Junior candidates are Robbie MacPherson, 5-8, 150 ("he can run"); Dan Schulman, 5-10, 141; David Seagers, 5-7, 145; and Mike Zorochin, 5-8, 159.

Aside from Kinnan, Beachell sees the lack of game experience at guard and tackle as his biggest problem in the line.

FIVE LEAGUES OFFERED

In Platform Tennis. In addition to beginners' clinics, the Princeton Recreation Department will sponsor five leagues in platform tennis this fall at the two courts in Community Park.

To participate in a league, it is required to purchase a season ticket at the recreation office. Different fee plans are available to Princeton residents and Princeton school and municipal employees. Complete information is available from the recreation office, 921-9480. The leagues offered:

Men's: Plays Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 or 9:30. Players are rated and teams formed according to ability. Inter-team and doubles play matches against opponents of equal level.

Women's: Meets Monday through Friday mornings from 9:30 to 12:30. More recreational than competitive, teams play each other at a specified 90-minute block each week. Clinics will be held the first two weeks of the season. Additional information available from Bebe Karstad, 921-2617, or Jane Shillaber, 921-0206.

Couples: Plays Sunday and Monday evenings. Matches will be scheduled at certain periods weekly or every other week. Information: Ingrid Harvey, 921-6147.

Competitive Women's League: Includes teams from all clubs in the Princeton area. Matches will be played on all area courts and reservations are the obligation of the individual team players. Highly competitive and designed for talented players. Additional information from Mrs. Jacque Ockerlander, 924-7433.

Recreation Department Women's Competitive Team: Designed to instruct serious players in advanced strategy and technique, team meets for clinics on Tuesday and Mrs. Karstad or Mrs. Shillaber. Thursday afternoon from 12:30 to 2. Matches against other clubs will be held later in the season. Call Mrs. Harvey for additional information.

Beginners' clinics for players just taking up the sport will be held at the courts on Monday through Wednesday, October 21-23, from 9:30 to 11 and 11 to 12:30. Those interested should call 921-2617.

TENNIS EVENING SET

At Indoor Center. Dennis Van der Meer, will be the main attraction of the September 28th evening of "Tennis With Dennis" at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center.

Van der Meer is a former South African tennis champion and President of Tennis America, which sponsored its second tennis camp at Lawrenceville this summer. He is the coach of Billie Jean King and Margaret Court.

During the week of September 23rd, Van der Meer will conduct a workshop for pros at the Indoor Center. This is a closed event but Van der Meer, his wife, Lina, and professionals in the workshop will take part in the Saturday night event.

Van der Meer will donate his time for the benefit of the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton. Activities will include instruction, instant video tape replay, and a chance to play tennis. A catered turkey and ham dinner will also be part of the HUN ELEVEN SETS GOAL.

Return to Respectability. It wasn't too long ago that Dave Leete, starting his sixth year as head football coach at Hun School, was guiding his team to a 33-game undefeated streak.

In the past two years, the Red and Black's football fortunes have nosedived as Hun won only two games over the last two campaigns. So it isn't a surprise that Leete says this year that he is optimistic that his Hun team will be "respectable." Better than last year? he was asked. "I would hope so. Our backfield looks good."

Leete welcomes back a dozen returning lettermen headed by captain Ron Lovering, a center. Other seniors are guard Anthony DiPastina, tackle Ed Andrews, ends Jeff Petrone, Kevin Rafalski, and Jeff Fischer, defensive tackle Chris Aldrich, guard Scott Barton and halfbacks Bruce LiSooey and Lonnie Cathel. Also juniors Terry McEwen, a halfback, and Jack Porcelli, an end last fall who will play guard or center this year.

Another senior, Kelvin Maxie, a top offensive tackle last year, was lost for the majority of the season when he tripped on the second day of practice and broke his wrist. Maxie is 210, 6-2, and his unexpected loss leaves a big hole for Leete to fill.

Leete is expecting help in the line from four others who will be moving up from the jayvees: Mark Kusel, a senior, and sophomore Keith MacEwan, both tackles, junior Pat Bystrzycki, a guard or tackle; and junior Tom Sumners, an end.

Newcomers Will Help. Offsetting the loss of four players who transferred to Princeton High School, including Bob McHugh, Hun's leading ground gainer last year, and starting guard, Nate Harris, Leete reports the addition of three newcomers to the squad from schools in the area.

Ernie Barbiero, 190-pound fullback, comes from Ewing and will probably be used as a linebacker at Hun. He is a junior. Another junior transfer from Princeton Day School is Nick Brady, whom Leete plans to use as an end and backup quarter back. Tim Teel, a sophomore, is a halfback from Trenton.

A postgraduate student from New Providence High School is John Cirelli, who figures prominently in Leete's plans as quarterback and safety. "He's shown he can throw the ball," said Leete.

From all this Leete says he can field a first group with good size. But depth, he added, will be a problem. Backup resources are limited. "Any injuries would cause us a lot of trouble," he said. "We squad. He will fill a linebacker spot, and handle the place kicking chores. Another transfer, junior Scott Ware, will see action at defensive end and guard.

The defensive backfield positions will be manned by Thomas, Mark Zawadsky, Steve Judge and Bob Olsson, the only freshman to win a starting spot the team.

Boneparth, and his assistant coaches, Rob Hoffman, who handles the backfield, and Malcolm Laing, who helps with the linemen, have a squad that should not beat itself with costly and fundamental errors, a constant worry in schoolboy football.

The Panthers have the ability to meet every team on their schedule on even terms, and this has rarely been the case in their seven-year history. Chestnut Hill will provide the opposition for the season's opener this Saturday at Chestnut Hill. The Panthers wound up on the short end of a couple of mismatches against this school in their first two varsity seasons, but that will not be the case this time.

PDS's home opener will be Friday, September 27 against Englewood.

This year marks the 10th anniversary of the founding of Princeton Day through the merger of Princeton Country Day School and Miss Fine's. The football team may well celebrate the occasion with its best season.

have to try to keep everyone healthy."

Help From The Schedule? On paper at least, Leete acknowledged that the 1974 schedule is more realistic than last year's. Dropped have been Peddie, Princeton High School and long-time rival, Pennington School. Pennington had to drop Hun at least for a year, but hopefully no longer, because of a scheduling commitment in the Penn-Jersey League.

Jersey League.

Newcomers to the eight-game schedule are Princeton Day School, West Windsor High School and St. Andrew's, a private school in Delaware. St. Andrew's, Leete commented, used to be a strong football power, but has fallen off somewhat in recent years. "But there is no way of telling what will happen until you get to play them," he said.

Leete is being assisted by Bill McQuade, who will work with the secondary ends; Jim MacLeod, line and linebackers, and newcomer Dan Lohnes. Lohnes, Leete's head line coach, was a head coach himself at Avon School in Connecticut, and Holderness, a private school in New Hampshire.

On the field, Leete promised to add a few new wrinkles to the Hun offense which has been devoted to a running game in past years. "We'll pass a little more, make it even," he said, because he has the players who can throw.

Punt, Pass and Kick Set for September 29

Princeton area youngsters between 8 and 13 are eligible to compete in the annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition sponsored by the National Football League and the Ford Dealers of America.

This year's competition will be held next Sunday, September 29, at noon at the Community Park field. Any area boy or girl between 8 and 13 accompanied by a parent or guardian may register at Nassau-Conover Motor Company, Route 206 and Cherry Valley Road, where complete details and a free PP&K Tips Book are available.

First, second and third place winners in each of six age groups at Community Park will receive a trophy and will advance to the next round of competition. The PP&K national finals will be held at the NFL championship game on December 29.

winners will defend their titles. The winners in 1973 were Al Smith and Ken Syberg, Joe Campion and Gordon Hansen, and Henry Fallon and Bob Nielsen. This year the favorites are: in the Black Division, Bob Little and Bob Evans; in the White Division, Norm Nuding and Jay Sexton; and in the Silver Division, Ron Babington and Fred Schott. The second seeds are Al Smith and Bob Rogers; Janis Ziedonis and John DiPolvere; and Bob Casey and Rick Armstrong.

READY TO GROW
West Windsor Looks Ahead. This fall it will be for real for the fledgling West Windsor-Plainsboro football team.

West Windsor's new high school, in its second year of existence, will not have a senior class until next fall, but coach Rex Walker and his 36-member team will open their first official varsity season September 28 at home against North Brunswick.

Until some final construction deficiencies are ironed out, all home games will be played at the Mercer County Park field, North Trenton and South Post Roads.

Members of the present Green and Gold squad played together as a sophomore jayvee team which won three, lost four and tied one. Those who will see a lot of varsity

LOVES AND METS WIN

In West Windsor Tennis. It prevailed in the West Windsor Recreation Commission's summer evening doubles tennis league as the first place finishers in the men's early league and the women's league both captured the playoff titles, too.

The "Loves," chamoions in the women's league, and composed of Peg Miller, Jean Keller and Jill O'Donnell, first overcame the second place finishers - the Volleys (Derrith Kavanagh, Kathy Murray and Richela Bobeck) 6-1, 6-2. Next they faced the "Faults" (Phyllis Sobelman, Pat Fallon and Dixie Curtice) in the finals.

The Faults had finished in a tie in regular league play with the "Deuces" (Gretchen Gavitt, Deborah Nyce and Emily Hunter) for third place and it was equally close in the playoff match, as the Faults defeated the Deuces 7-6, 6-7, 6-1. The final was almost as even, as the Loves prevailed in three sets, 6-2, 4-6, 6-0.

In the men's early league, the first place Mets (Gordon Hart and Berni Midland) overcame the Braves (Nick Rzewsky, Pat Summers and Bob Zochowski) 6-4, 6-3. Meanwhile, the second place finishers were conquering the third place team. The second place "Cubs" (Jay Sexton, Ed Jordi and Sam Shuren) won, 6-4, 6-4, over the Phils (Rick Gordon, Janis Ziedonis and Tony Zuccarello). In the finals, it was another close one, the Cubs taking the first set 6-2, but the Mets the next two, 6-4, 6-4, and the title.

The late men's league title has not yet been contested because of rain. It's the Orioles vs. the Senators and the Padres vs. the Indians to determine the finalists.

FALL TENNIS STARTS
In West Windsor. The West Windsor Recreation Commission's annual fall series of tennis tournaments began last weekend with the Mother-Daughter championship and three men's doubles titles scheduled.

In the mother-daughter tournament, the Haws combination of Lorraine and daughter Jeanne have been seeded number one. Last year's winner, Fran and Katie Ruch, will not defend their title, but Fran Ruch is a contender with another daughter, Mary Lou.

In the three men's doubles groups, it's a wide open race as none of the three 1973

In the line: Bill Schroeder, center; Rick Malacrea and Joe Kuzniewski, guards; Alex Drummond and Ken Brzezynski, tackles; Tom Murphy, tight end, and Dave Duncan, split end.

We saw the kids who want to hit and how our offense was progressing."

No Miracle Expected. Walker does not envision his Pirates pillaging and plundering the opposition. "We don't anticipate that great a year," he said candidly. "If we can get as close to .500 as possible, we'll be happy." Whatever may lie ahead, he said that the boys were eager to get started.

The schedule contains one neighborhood school—Hun—and PHS will be added next year. The complete schedule: North Brunswick, Point Pleasant Beach, Hun, Sussex Vocational School, Dunellen, Bordentown, St. Anthony, Bridgewater-Raritan East and Allentown. "I don't see any easy ones on it," said Walker.
